ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The writing of this thesis was one of the most significant academic challenges I have ever had to face. Though only my name appears on the cover of this thesis, a great many people have contributed to its production. I owe my gratitude to all those people who have made this thesis possible and because of whom my research experience has been one that I will cherish forever. The printed pages of this thesis hold far more than the culmination of years of study. These pages also reflect the relationships with many generous and inspiring people I have met since beginning my research work. The list is long, but I cherish each contribution to my development as a humble scholar.

My deepest gratitude is to my Supervisor, Professor Manohar Lal Sharma, a gracious mentor, who is also the Chairperson of the department. I have been amazingly fortunate to have an advisor who gave me the freedom to explore on my own and at the same time the guidance to recover when my steps faltered. He taught me how to question thoughts and express ideas. His patience and support helped me overcome many crisis situations and finish this research work. It is not often that one finds an advisor who always finds the time for listening to the little problems and roadblocks that unavoidably crop up in the course of performing research. His technical and editorial advice was essential to the completion of this thesis and has taught me innumerable lessons and insights on the workings of academic research in general. His insightful comments and constructive criticisms at different stages of my research were thought-provoking and they helped me to focus on my ideas. I am grateful to him for holding me to a high research standard and enforcing strict validations for each research result, and thus teaching me how to do research.

I am thankful to Prof. J.N. Sharma and Dr. Ashu Pasricha for their kind cooperation during my research work, I would gratefully acknowledge the support and help of Dr. Manish Sharma for unflinching encouragement and support in various ways.

Where would I be without my family? My parents, Shri Devinder Singh Deshta and Smt. Imla Deshta, who deserve special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. My Father, in the first place is the person who laid down the foundations of my learning character, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was a child. My Mother is the one who sincerely raised me with her caring and gently love. My special and sincere gratitude to my Brother Prashant Deshta, Bhabhi Dr. Shalini Deshta and dearest Nephew Ryan Deshta for their love and unconditional support which inspired me a lot, resulting in driving force during all these years.

In my life I have been blessed with a partner who is always stood by my side in all the odds and hardships. She was always there cheering me up motivating and inspiring me to move on at times when I felt low. Ruchi Deshta my wife without whom this effort would have been worth nothing. "Your Love, support and constant patience have taught me so much about discipline, sacrifice and humility. You have always encouraged and believed in me, in all my endeavors and have lovingly cared for our son Manvik all this time. Manvik dear, you owe a special mention the time which was meant for you, I gave to my research work, I am deeply sorry for that and promise to make up for all those times now".

I am extremely grateful to the Librarian, A. C. Joshi Library, Panjab University Chandigarh, State Library Chandigarh, National Gandhi Museum, New Delhi and I am also very thankful to the staff of Gandhi Bhawan and the Department of Gandhian studies for their kind cooperation.

I am highly thankful to my respondents who spare their valuable time to reply my questions very patiently. I am also thankful to the authors of various books which have been extensively used and quoted in my work and helped me a lot in completion of my work.

My thanks are due to my friends and relatives for helping me in the arduous task of moving around for collecting the necessary material to complete my research work.

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.

Sushant Deshta