ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a great pleasure to express my gratitude to all those who made it possible for me to complete this thesis. Today, while I am concluding my research, so many names parade in my memory, and I take this opportunity to acknowledge, with a sense of profound gratitude, their valuable help.

I am highly indebted to my respected and adorable teacher and supervisor, Dr (Mrs) P. Verma, Reader, Department of Psychology, Panjab University, Chandigarh. It was her ever-available help, valuable guidance, tremendous encouragement and timely suggestions which enabled me to pursue and finish this research work.

I am beholden to my family members for their abundant help and emotional support, especially my husband, RAMESH, for his untiring efforts and constant inspiration at every stage of my research. But for his immense moral support, it would not have been possible for me to complete this work.

My deep appreciation for my loving sons, PRAGUN and ROHIN, who sacrificed their most precious early childhood years with a marvellous sense of understanding and patience by putting up with my frequent absences from their playtimes, and refreshing me with their innocent talks.

My special thanks are due to my parents for being the source of inspiration to keep me going. I am very fortunate that my sister, SONU, helped me at each stage of thesis with her unforgettable efforts.

I am also thankful to M/S Kaizen Graphics for typing the thesis with utmost diligence.

Last but not least, my thanks to all the respondents who cooperated with me in collection of the research data.

Seema Vinayak
nee Seema Bahl
Dated: July 14, 1999