ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am extremely happy to thank Dr. M. Ravichandran, Senior Lecturer, Department of Commerce - ICE, University of Madras, Chennai, for his valuable guidance and immense patience. His scholarship and critical acumen are mainly responsible in shaping the present study.

I am deeply grateful to Dr. D. Amarchand, Professor and Head, Department of Commerce, University of Madras, Chennai, for his thought provoking suggestions throughout the preparation of this thesis.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. M. Shanmugham, Director, Institute of Correspondence Education, University of Madras, Chennai, for providing the necessary facilities for carrying out my work.

I also wish to thank Dr. R. Narasimhan, Professor and Dr. R. Anbalagan, Reader, Department of Commerce - ICE, University of Madras, Chennai, for their constant encouragement during the course of the project.

My special thanks are due to Dr. G. Balakrishnan, Pachaiyappa’s College, Chennai, for his timely help in the final stages of this thesis.

I wish to express my sense of gratitude to Dr. R. S. Raghavan, Principal, Pachaiyappa’s College, Chennai, and Committee of Management of Pachaiyappa’s Charities, Chennai, for permitting me to undergo the course.
I am also thankful to my Professor and Head, Dr.C.Chelliah, and to all other colleagues in the Department of Commerce, Pachaiyappa’s College, Chennai, for their kind help and encouragement over the years.

Dr.N.Sethuraman, who has been a source of inspiration deserves a word of thanks. In addition, many of my friends have played an important role in making this study a success. I would like to express my sincere thanks to each one of them. Their names are too many to list. My thanks are due to each one of them.

Acknowledgements are also due to the owners of 100 cc motor cycles who have cooperated and responded to my request by giving their free and frank opinions in making the data available.

I must thank my wife, Mrs.Usharani and son, Master Murali, who gladly gave up their claim upon my time, which actually belonged to them and spared me to carry out this study.

Last, but most assuredly not the least, I am indebted to my brother, Dr.Venu Kannappan and family for their continuous encouragement and generous support, financial and otherwise, throughout my academic career.
