ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With all humility and sincerity, I bow to God for giving me enough strength, all time enlightenment, inspiration, blessings and courage for the completion of this thesis. It gives me great pleasure at this juncture to acknowledge all those people who have helped me directly or indirectly in my research.

My foremost gratitude goes to my revered supervisor Prof. A.C. Julka (Retd.) for his continuous support at each and every step and also for providing me constant guidance, which proved as beckon light during the course of study. The present work would not have been possible without his encouragement and efforts. I am deeply indebted to Prof. Gurmail Singh, my co-supervisor, Former Chairman, Department of Economics for his guidance in the fulfillment of this thesis. I express my sincere thanks to the present Chairman, Dr. Indu Bala, Department of Economics, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for providing facilities to carry out my research work.

I express my sincere thanks to Sh. Pardeep Sharma, Exam-coordinator, Panjab University, Chandigarh for supporting and encouraging me at every step of my research work.

I am also thankful to Prof. Nityananda Sarkar, Professor, Department of Statistics, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata, for guiding me to pursue this work. His valuable advice, worthy suggestions and encouragement kept me morally strong throughout my work.

I am also thankful to Prof. Umesh Vinayak (Retd.), Head, Department of Economics, DAV College, Sec-10, Chandigarh for his continuous support and also to Prof Vikram Gill, Head, Department of Economics, SPN College, Mukerian for constructive discussions during the course of my research work.
