BIBLIOGRAPHY

Ahluwalia, I.J. (1985), Industrial Growth in India, Stagnation since the Mid-Sixties, Oxford University Press, New Delhi.

Department of Science and Technology (various issues), Research and Development in Industry, Government of India, New Delhi.

Economic Surveys (Various Issues), Government of India, GOI.

Kumari, A. (2008), ‘India’s Industrial Growth, Sources and Determinants A focus on Engineering Industry’, Bookwell, New Delhi.

Meier, G.M. (1973), Problems of Trade Policy, Oxford University Press, USA.

Reinert, E. S. (2009), ‘Emulation versus Comparative Advantage: Competing and Complementary Principles in the History of Economic Policy’ in Cimoli, M.,

Research and Development in Industry (various issues), ‘Research and Development in Industry’, Ministry of Science and Technology, Department of Science and Technology, Government of India, New Delhi.

Research and Development Statistics (various issues), ‘Research and Development Statistics’, Ministry of Science and Technology, Department of Science and Technology, Government of India, New Delhi.

United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UNDESA) (1963), A study of Industrial Growth, New York.

