ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, my earnest acknowledgement goes to my supervisor, Prof. Lakhwinder Singh. It has been an honour to work under his supervision. He has been instrumental in ensuring my academic, professional and moral well being ever since I met him. I am also thankful for the excellent example he has provided as an eminent researcher, a scholar par excellence and a humble teacher.

I am thankful to Prof. R.K. Bansal, Head, Department of Economics, Punjabi University, Patiala for providing me the conducive atmosphere to complete my research work.

I owe special thanks to Prof. Sucha Singh Gill and Prof. R. S. Ghuman for being a source of inspiration for me. My thankful acknowledgment goes to Prof. Anita Gill whose affection and support is hard to express in words. Further, I thankfully acknowledge the suggestions and comments from Prof. Inderjeet Singh, Prof. Sukhwinder Singh, Prof. Jaswinder Singh Brar, Prof. Kesar Singh Bhangoo, Dr. Parmod Kumar and Dr. Umrao Singh.

I am highly indebted to Prof. K.J. Joseph, for extending me invitation to participate in Refresher Course at Centre for Development Studies (CDS), Thiruvananthapuram, Kerala which has helped me immensely in my pursuit of research work. Further, I am grateful to Prof. C. R. Reddy, Editor, Economic and Political Weekly who has given me the opportunity to attend the Workshop on Exploratory Data Analysis organized by Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS), Mumbai. Discussion during the workshop with Prof. Chandan Mukherjee, Ambedkar University, New Delhi was immensely helpful and thankfully acknowledged.

I am highly thankful for the constructive comments and suggestions regarding my research work from Prof. Kunal Sen, Manchester University, UK, Prof. Vinish Kathuria, IIT Bombay, Prof. Pushpa Trivedi, IIT Bombay and M. Paraweswaran, CDS, Thiruvanthapuram, Kerala.

I express my gratitude to Dr. Nandini Dutta, Head, Department of Economics, Miranda House, Delhi University for her motivation and support.

While collecting the material for the study, I have availed of the resources of several libraries, particularly of K.N Raj Library, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram; Rattan Tata Library, Delhi School of Economics, New Delhi; Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi; library of Institute for Economic Growth, New Delhi; Bhai Kahn Singh Nabha Library, Punjabi University, Patiala and the library of Department of Economics, Punjabi University, Patiala. I sincerely admire the support from the helpful staff of these institutions.

I also owe a huge debt of gratitude to my friends Indervir Singh, Jatinder Singh, Sarabjit Singh and Neetika Sharma for the support. I am also indebted to Dr. Baldev Singh, Dr. Varinder Jain, Mr. Rajeev Sharma and Mrs. Pooja Sikka. My special thanks are for my friends Namrata Kapoor, Meetpal Kaur, Pooja, Shaminder Ahluwalia, Jyoti Saluja and Sonia Baghila who had always make me feel light and refreshed.

I am beholden to the University Grants Commission (UGC) for the award of a Research Fellowship which was a great help and encouragement in my endeavours for research.

My penultimate thanks go to my wonderful parents for always being there when I needed them the most. They are the one who put in me the fundamental learning character, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit. My special gratitude is due to my sister, Heena for her love, faith and support.
