ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to acknowledgement my deep gratitude and indebtedness to Prof. Kashinath Ranveer, my present teacher and research supervisor. Prof. Ranveer is senior most professor and outstanding scholar in African American literature across the country. Moreover, he is innovative social activist in Maharashtra (India). He provided me deep insight, enlightened guidance, rich critical supervision and intellectual warm during this research work. He offered me a special light when the path was dark. Whenever I was stranded at the cross road, he came to rescue and taught me to squint in to the light. To work with him is a journey from ignorance to knowledge.

I am grateful to Dr. A.G.Khan, Director, B.C.U.D., Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad for his moral support. In addition to this, I am also grateful to all the members of the faculty of English, Dr. Satish Deshpande, Dr. Hamid Khan, Dr. Mabel Fernandes, Mr. Bhimrao Bhosale, Dr.M.H. Pathan, Dr. Mustjeeb Khan and Mr. Anand Ubale.

I am grateful to my farm–worker parents who taught me the basic values of a family and led me an archetypal journey from darkness to light.

My deep gratitude is also due to Osmania University Centre for International Programme (OUCIP) Hyderabad and American Centre Library Mumbai. I consider it my privilege to have an opportunity to use such rich international renowned library for this thesis. I am also thankful to the librarian of English and Foreign Language University (EFLU), Hyderabad, and librarian and the staff of Dr.
B.A.M.U., Aurangabad for providing me its rich primary and secondary sources.

I would like to acknowledge my heartfelt gratitude to respected teachers in the Humanities and Social sciences disciplines in various universities in India, viz.
Prof. B. S. Korade (Head, Dept. of English, Pune University, Pune). Prof. Chintamany Mahapatra (Chairman, Center for American Studies, J.N.U., New Delhi), Prof. G.J.V.
Prasad (Chairman, School of language, literature and cultural studies J.N.U. New Delhi), Prof. B.S. Waghmare (Former Head, Dept. of Political Science, Dr. BAMU, Aurangabad), Prof. S.L. Gaikwad (Dept. of Sociology, Dr. B.A.M.U. Aurangabad), Prof. Umesh Bagade ( Former Head, Dept. of History, Dr. B.A.M.U. Aurangabad) and Prof. Ramdas Gaikwad (Founder President of Gaikwad Shikshan Prasarak Mandal, Aurangabad) and Pandhari Gaikwad (Assistant Secretary G.S.P.M.)

I take this as an opportunity to record my thanks to all my revered teacher, friends and well-wishers.

Lastly, let me record my thankfulness to Santosh shinde for his Pain taking effort to bring this thesis in present form within stipulated time.

Eknath Bhalerao

( Research Student)