ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset I deign it my duty to express my profound gratefulness to Dr. AMARJEET MAHAJAN, Reader, Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for his significant and precious guidance and supervision. The research work could not have attained this format in the absence of his guidance, critical appraisal, and encouragement, which he generously gave from time to time despite his busy schedule. The qualities which this work has are due to his masterly touch and the shortcomings which are bound to remain in a work on a subject which is growing day by day are mine.

I am much grateful to Prof. P.N. Pimpley, Chairman, Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, who afforded me an opportunity to work freely in the department during my studies on the subject.

I also express my heartfelt gratitude to all my teacher, many colleagues, and friends especially Prof. Jai Gopal Sharma and Mr. S.R. Saroa who helped and encouraged me throughout the course of my study.
I would be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to those parents and children in the remote regions of Sirmour District, Himachal Pradesh, who are the subject of my present study and who were subjected to vigorous and probing enquiries during my visits to them. It is their responses to my queries which made the work a success.

I am also grateful to Sh. S.P. Mohindra, Shri Heera Singh, and Shri Rajesh Mohindra, who helped and accompanied me during the field work.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not place on record the gratefulness of my wife Smt. Om Prabha Monga, and my small children, Anubhav and Anujaya, who very patiently bore with irregular hours during this work.

The last but not the least important is my gratefulness to Sh. S.K. Bhalla, who very skilfully typed the manuscript of the thesis.

Om Pattash Monga
