ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my proud privilege to put on record the deep sense of gratitude which I have for my teacher and supervisor Dr. Sherry Sabbarwal, Professor and Head, Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh. She motivated me and gave me the necessary ‘training’ for sociological research in the real sense of the word. Her words of encouragement, co-operation and availability kept me going at every stage of this work.

I am also thankful to my guide, in her capacity as the Chairperson, Department of Sociology, for providing me with the facilities for carrying out this work. I must also express my thanks to all my teachers for their valuable suggestions, and administrative staff for their unfailing support.

I am immensely grateful to my Father, Dr. A.C. Julka, who stood by me at every stage of this work. Words fail me to express what I owe to him. Throughout this endeavor, he was a pillar of strength for me. This work would not have been possible without his kind support and valuable guidance.

My sincere thanks are also due to my husband, Mr. Tarun Sathiya Lakhanpal, for providing unconditional love and support during this exercise. And, it is needless to mention, that my father-in-law, Prof.T.N. Lakhanpal, and my mother-in-law have been a motivation as ever.

I would be failing in my duty if I don’t acknowledge the sacrifice made by my sister Priyanka and my daughter S. Aakriti, in suffering silently because of my involvement in the work and non availability to them.

How can I forget the moral & strategic support provided by Smt. Kaushalya, our elderly maid, during the entire period of data collection. Her worldly wisdom created inroads into the private domain of my subjects, thus enabling me to have access to authentic information.
Last, but not the least, I would like to express my gratitude to Dr. Gurmail Singh, Deptt of Economic, S Sawaran Singh, & Jaspal Kaur, PRC, Mr. Sudesh Kumar, deptt of Computer Sci. & application and Mr. Suresh Kumar for their timely and unfailing help in bringing the thesis into its present shape. But for the support rendered by them it would not have possible to meet the deadline. Mr. Suresh Kumar deserves a word of appreciation for having carefully typed this work.

Nidhi Julka
Department of Sociology,
Panjab University,
Chandigarh.

Date: 11.10.2007