ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I acknowledge with a sense of deep gratitude the contribution of my supervisor, Professor R.K. Sharma, Dean, Faculty of Arts, Panjab University, Chandigarh, without whose constant motivation and encouragement, the present research work for the Doctorate Degree would not have seen the light of the day. I gave up the idea of pursuing my Ph. D. due to some constraints and considerations and as a good friend not only did he revive my interest in research work but also provided me guidance in the guise of my research supervisor and provided all possible academic help. The finalization of any project is always a ticklish process yet I could manage that with so much of ease due to his consistent and constant attention and the efforts he made to provide me with invaluable inputs to add fineness to the details of the study.

I must make a special mention of my colleague Dr. Charanjeev Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, Chandigarh without whose support and help this work could not have been completed. His research insight bailed me out on many occasions when I was seriously stuck up with the research work. The help provided by Dr. Shagun Ahuja, Assistant Professor, Government College, Naraingarh (District Ambala), in analyzing and tabulating the primary data was immense and must be appreciated immensely.

I must also acknowledge the help and assistance provided by Mr. Joginder Singh, Senior Divisional Manager (Division II, Chandigarh), National Insurance Company, Limited in collecting the primary and secondary data.

There is an endless list which includes research scholars, friends, and my colleagues who were of great help during the different stages of this research work. I thank them profusely.
