ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Feelng gratitude and not expressing it is like wrapping a present and not giving it. - William Arthur Ward

Here I present heartfelt thanks to those who deserve much more than what words can convey.

Words are certainly not enough to pay my profound regards to my Supervisor, Professor Abnash C. Julka. I simply wish to state that my mind bends in his respect and heart is full of prayers wishing him best of health and life full of happiness. I consider myself, a girl who sits besides the Sea, savor the shower of each tide that comes to the shore, and is still thirsty. This, is a refined magic of the illimitable knowledge and experience that Sir possess. I extend my sincere thanks to him for his invaluable guidance in the thesis work. His kind words of encouragement have kept me going all through with confidence.

My thanks are also due to the incredible support I got from Dr. Rashpal Malhotra, Director-General, CRRID. His support has been like an umbrella to protect me from the hottest Summer heat and from the coldest Winter rains. I shall always be indebted to his kindness.

Thanks are justly due to Professor S L Kansra, Department of Economics, for his valuable inputs in the initial stage of the study. Data collection, the most important part of the study, could not have been successfully done without the support of libraries. I express my sincere thanks to the staff members of the department library, A C Joshi library, P.U., Chandigarh, CRRID library, Chandigarh, and FAI Library, New Delhi. Also, I express my gratitude to the administrative staff of the department for their accommodativeness.

Of course, this study would have been impossible without the unconditional love, support, and prayers of my Parents. After the long exhaustive hours of study, sitting between the two has been the most comfortable drive that used to take me through the most pleasant pleasures of life. No doubt, Parents are the most precious Gift from God. I feel myself lucky to also have the loving blessings of ‘Biji’, my Nani Ma and Dadi Ma. My elder brother and two sisters have always shown their confidence in me and thus made me stronger to face the challenges with courage. To me, my sister Simmi, who is the most sensitive part of my life, has also been, the strongest pillar to lean on, the hardest rock to hit on, and the easiest shore to reach at. I pay my regards to the support I got from all my relations.

Though I could not give time to the playful wonders of my nieces and nephew, especially during the finishing stage of the study, I admire their innocent understanding being often expressed as ‘massi/bua is busy’.

As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words, but to live by them.
- John Fitzgerald Kennedy

I wish I remember this always.
