ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am greatly indebted to Mrs. K.P. Singh, Prof., Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for guiding me sympathetically and patiently throughout my work. She encouraged me at every step. Her suggestions and instructions were extremely helpful in surmounting problems that I faced during the course of my work. In fact, but for her guidance and extremely helpful attitude the work would never have completed in this form.

I am also greatly indebted to the respondents who gave their valuable time and cooperation to me during the field work.

My family members who cooperated with me in this endeavour also deserve my sincere thanks.
