ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my indebtedness to the Department of Education, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for having given me an opportunity and the facilities to investigate the adult education programmes implemented in the state of Punjab, during the past one decade.

I am equally grateful to the staff of the Centre for Adult, Continuing Education and Extension of Panjab University, the Regional Resource Centre, the Department of Adult Education, Government of Punjab and institutions of higher education for allowing me collection of data and painstaking discussions which form the most important base for the present study.

I express my deep gratitude to the ground level functionaries - the volunteers, the instructors, the supervisors, the members of the area committees for their most willing co-operation and collaboration in collecting the field data. The learners who acted as subjects during difficult stages of the study deserve my thanks and appreciation.

How can I fail in my duties for not thanking my supervisor, Prof. Narendra Nath Pangotra, Director, Centre For Adult Continuing Education and Extension of Panjab University Chandigarh for his expert guidance, support and painstaking efforts in accomplishing this assignment. He envinced deep interest in dealing with the problem and his insight into the subject has been responsible to bring about qualitative improvement in the work at various phases. I gratefully acknowledge his able guidance and enlightenment which he richly bestowed upon me in completing the present study.
