The words of the Master are not to be understood. They are to be listened to as one listens to the wind in the trees and the sound of the river and the song of the bird. They will awaken something within the heart that is beyond all knowledge.

-- Anthony de Mello, S.J.

I thank Professor Ashis Nandy for granting me the privilege to be his student. Then for helping me grow out of my ignorance, shedding my security of conventional ideas, so that I had to learn to see, understand and analyse for myself. I am grateful to him for always encouraging me, helping and guiding me through my stumblings and showing me that learning never ends even though degrees may.

I thank Professor Jitendra Mohan for giving me the opportunity to work under his guidance. His advice, help and continuous encouragement helped me reach my goal. Observing him work with unlimited patience and tolerance towards his students taught me that there is no royal road to success except hard work.

I am grateful to Mr. Paranjpe, and Mr Ghosh for providing me with the rare opportunity of studying nuclear scientists. I want to thank Dr. Rodriguez and all the scientists in Kalpakkam, BARC, DRDO, who gave me a new understanding of intelligence, excellence and knowledge and a glimpse into the lives of those in pursuit of them.

I am obliged to Dr. Sudeep Gupta, Dr. Rudra K. Gupta and all the doctors in AIIMS, RML hospital and all other hospitals in Delhi, Bombay who gave their precious time so liberally and willingly, for a cause as unworthy of their attention as mine. It helped me understand their single-minded dedication to medicine and science.
I thank Mrinalini Singh for her consistent emotional support, generous help and advice in everything. Her faith in me saw me through many doubts and inconsistencies. I thank Damini Singh for her advice and help.

Emotional stability at home is the anchor for productive work inside or outside the home. I thank my parents, Dhananjay, Pragati, Smita and Prateek for the security of their love and their unconditional belief in me, their cooperation and support.

She came last into my life, yet her presence eases out all my worries, my anxieties, my tensions. I thank Vrinda my one and a half year old daughter for the melody she has brought in my life.
