While it is impossible to mention all those who have, by their kind gesture and cooperation, made possible the successful completion of this work, there are a few however, to whom I express whole heartedly my gratitude and appreciation.

First and foremost, I acknowledge my indebtedness to my supervisor, Dr. K.K.Pathak, Professor and Chairman, Department of Political Science, Panjab University, Chandigarh, without whose guidance this study could not have been undertaken.

I am most grateful to my beloved brother Mr. Okechukwu Ogoloma and my ever-loving wife Mrs. E. Uro. Ogoloma, for their help and encouragement without which it would not have been possible for me to finish this study.

My particular thanks to Mr. T. C. Ghai of Deshbandhu College, Delhi University for his helpful advice, and untiring support, the fruits of which this work owes heavily.

I am also indebted to Dr. T. R. Sharma, Professor, Department of Political Science, who initiated me into the research programme, the entire eminent teaching staff, Mr.
Paramjit Singh, the Library-Incharge, Mr. S. L. Sharma and the office staff of the department for their assistance and advice given to me in course of my study.

My special thanks are also due to Madame Esther Agbadawari Abbey my mother-in-law, Mr. Napoleon Abbey my brother-in-law, my uncles Professor O.A. Nduka, Dr. Nsirim Nduka both of University of Port Harcourt (Rivers State-Nigeria) and their families, Mr. Cletus N.Chukwu (Ph.D.Scholar), Col. C. F. Nwogu (D.D.A. Army) Nigerian High Commission, New Delhi, his wife - Mrs. Rose and the entire family, Mr. Profit Edighotu, for their love, encouragement, assistance, support, help and patronage in one form or another.

I must also express my gratitude to Mr. Narinder Sharma, and Miss Vidisha Singh -Deo (Ph.D. Scholars) Jawaharlal Nehru University, Delhi), Mr. L.I.E. Nworgu (of Rumueme), Mr. and Mrs. Mike Anozie, Mr. Ebere Elewa, Mr. and Mrs. Dele Ojo and family, Mr. Asanacnyi Kennedy Ibok (Ph. D. Scholar), Mr. Aashih Pathak, Dr. Obis and family, Mr. Endy Peter Oruasha, John Babatupe (Sumbo - Director) for their assistance in variety of ways.

I should like to thank Dr. Ibrahim Gambari, currently Nigeria's UN permanent representative and Dr. Ali A. Mazrui, of Political Science Department, The University of Michigan and Andrew D. White Professor-at-large, Cornell University - USA for furnishing me with the off-prints of their original research manuals, manuscripts, monographs, and answering my personal questions that helped me a great deal in the work.

My gratitude also to General Ike O. Nwachukwu, the Foreign Minister of Nigeria, the Librarian, Nigerian Institute of International Affairs-Lagos, the Nigerian High Commission, New Delhi, the Indian Council for World Affairs (ICWA) at Sapru House, Delhi University, Jawaharlal Nehru University, for providing me with materials as well as allowing me to use their library facilities which proved very helpful for this work.

Last but not the least my thanks to those authors and writers whose work served as secondary sources and at times quoted and referred to in the study, and the Indian Council of Social Sciences Research (ICCSR) at New Delhi for their financial assistance that proved useful in completing this work.

Finally, I express my profound gratitude to the Cosmic, for enabling me to arrive at this point in time in my life with innumerable privileges and opportunities.

(FINEFACE IROKA OGOLOMA)