BIBLIOGRAPHY

Foraber, Jess Edington. “Perceptions of physical education and school principles regarding future direction for physical education programs". Dissertation Abstract International. The University of IOWA.

Gladys and Andrews et al. (1962). “Physical education for today’s boys and girls”. Boston Allyn and Bacon, Inc.,

J.P. Guilford, Benjamin, Fruchten. "Fundamental statistics in psychology and education".

Kenyon, G.S. "Conceptual model for character rising physical activity". Research Quarterly, 39, 566-574.

Likert, R. (1932). "A technique for the measurement of the attitudes". Archives of psychology. No.140.

Marguerite Bullock (1933). "Some of the factors determining the attitude of freshman women at the university of Oregan toward required physical education". Research Quarterly. Vol.4. No.4, p.60.

McCue, Betty (1950). "Constructing an instrumental for evaluating attitudes toward intensive competition in team games". Unpublished study, State University of IOWA.

Snedecor and Cochran (1967). “Statistical method”. P.U., Library, 6th ed. 311.2s671.54

V.V. Katti and C.S. Bannur. "Attitude towards teaching profession".

