ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all my heartfelt thanks go to the supervisor of this thesis, Dr. Swati Gupta-Bhattacharya, Lecturer, Department of Botany, Bose Institute, who has guided me with her valuable suggestions, playing a pivotal role in making my thesis possible.

I convey my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Sunirmal Chanda, Department of Botany, Bose Institute, co-supervisor of my thesis, who introduced me to the fascinating world of Aeropalynology, and was a constant source of encouragement with his valuable ideas and discussions he offered to me. My special appreciation for his patience.

I am also grateful to Bose Institute, Calcutta, where I was provided all infrastructural facilities in the laboratory and accommodation in the hostel.

I thank Prof. P.K. Ray, Director, Bose Institute, who extended me the help as an institute fellow from 1992 to 1997.

I thank Prof. B. Ghosh and Prof. S.N. Ganguly, the former Heads of the Department of Botany, Bose Institute and Prof. A.N. Lahiri-Majumdar, Head of the Department of Botany, Bose Institute for encouragement.

I thank Prof. K.K. Mukherjee and Prof. S. Sen Mandi, the former and present Scientist-in-Charge of Madhyamgram Field Station with all the staff members for their valuable help and co-operation during the aerobiological survey period.

Whole hearted co-operation and appreciation from everyone of the Allergy Unit of Institute of Child Health (ICH) is deeply appreciated. Without constant help and encouragement of Dr. (Mrs.). I. Roy and Dr. (Mrs.). S. Chatterjee of the Allergy Unit the clinical and immunological studies could not be conducted.

Special thanks go to Ms. Nandini Bhattacharya for her kind co-operation during the collection of patient sera. Thanks to Mr. Bijon Chowdhury for his extremely valuable help in photography. Thanks go to the Director, ICH, to allow me to conduct my clinical studies in the Allergy Unit.
I thank Dr. John Lacey, Dr. H.A. McCartney and Mrs. M.E. Lacey, all from IACR-Rothamsted, Harpenden, U.K., for taking time to discuss my research problem and rendering constant encouragement.

I convey my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Indrani Chowdhury, Research Associate in the Division of Palynology and Environmental Biology, who has helped me all through, sharing ideas especially during the immunochemical investigations. Her special care and attention provided me encouragement.

My heartfelt thanks go to Dr. K.N. Bhattacharya, Senior Lecturer, Department of Botany, Visva-Bharati, Santiniketan for his unfailing encouragement from the very beginning of my research work.

I thank Dr. (Mrs.). Swapna Banik, Lecturer, Basirhat College and Ms. Arati Malakar, Lecturer, Tamralipta Mahavidyalaya for their valuable help and suggestions during the palynological studies.

Special thanks go to Dr. Pritilata Nayek, Former Scientist, Plant Cell and Molecular Genetics Section of Bose Institute for her kind help in immunological experiments.

I thank Prof. S. Dutta, Wayne State University, USA and Mrs. R. Mitra, Librarian, Bose Institute for their valuable help to provide unavailable journals in the Bose Institute. Thanks go to Distributed Information Centre, Bose Institute for the co-operation during bibliographic searches.

Thanks to all the staff members of the Workshop and Regional Sophisticated Instrumentation Centre, specially to Mr. S. Ghoshal and Md. Abdur Rahman Molla, for their help in dealing technical problems.

My colleagues in the laboratory, specially Mr. Chanchal Chakraborty, including Mr. Madanmohan Nath, Mr. R.N. Roychowdhury, Mr. Subikash Bayen have helped me in the preparation of the thesis. Words are not sufficient to acknowledge their caring co-operation only with thanks. Thanks are also due to Atin Adhikari and Moon Moon Sen, my junior colleagues, for their enthusiastic presence since 1994.

Thanks to Dr. D.N. Sengupta and Dr. T.K.Ghose, lecturers of the Department of Botany, Bose Institute, and Mr. S. Gupta for their valuable help during biochemical investigations.
I would like to thank my dear friends Sanghamitra Bhattacharya and Biswajit Das, who are responsible for bringing me in the research world and Ms Shibani Chakraborty, for their disturbing presence (or absence) during last five years. Thanks to all my friends, seniors, juniors, staff members and teachers of Department of Botany, for their kind co-operation.

Thanks go to Ms Lopa Adhikari, Ms Sushma Mishra, Ms Uma Bhownik including all my senior and junior friends of the Bose institute Research Scholars' Hostel and Ms. Mousumi Acharya of the Indian Statistical Institute for their encouragement from begining till date.

Lastly I want to express my deep sense of gratitude to all my family members and relatives who had been a constant source of inspiration to carry out the research work.

( Pampa Chakrabarti )