ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I owe my sincere thanks to my supervisor, Prof. Dr.(Mrs.) I.P. Sharma. I am grateful for her able guidance and her clarity in issuing instructions, which never left any scope for any sort of ambiguity or confusion. Moreover I could complete this work well within time only because of her cooperation.

I am also thankful to the other members of the Faculty of Education, Panjab University, Chandigarh. They have always helped me with their suggestions and even books and journals. I am especially thankful to Dr. Anand Bhushan as I have always felt free to consult him whenever the need arose.

The research I undertook involved a critical study of nursery schools. Inspite of knowing that the shortcomings of the schools would be highlighted along with the praise worthy aspects, the principals of several nursery schools allowed me to carry out this study in their institutions. The staff of these nursery schools, day after day put up with my intrusion into the classrooms, staff room, principal's room and even the office of the schools. My access to several documents and information and opportunities to meet the parents of the students were possible only because of the cooperation of the staff of these schools.

I am grateful to my parents, parents in law and my son, Sharanya, for their constant support. My son never complained but played by my side while I put in long hours into my thesis. I am also grateful to Subrata Bose, Nilotpal Ghosh, Aparna Ghosh and Mr. Anil Prabhat Mehta for their encouragement.

It is true that but for the help of the above mentioned persons I could not have completed the study I had undertaken. But the greater truth lies in the fact that I had the courage to initiate this work and carry it out to completion only because of my husband. I do not have the words to describe my gratitude for his help, encouragement and above all for his faith in my ability to succeed. Thanking him would be a mere formality. Therefore I dedicate this work of mine to my husband, Shri Jayabrat Bose.
