ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my sincere gratitude to my esteemed guide Prof. (Mrs.) Vidhu Mohan for her inspiration, pains-taking, scholarly guidance warranted to me ungrudgingly. As a matter of fact, she introduced me to the concept of vocational maturity and its important implications for guidance and counselling bearing in her mind about my field of specialization and interests. Her deep insight to the problem has been of tremendous value for the completion of the present piece of investigation.

I offer my sincere thanks to Dr. J. M. Jerath, Dr. Sudha Banth, Dr. Amita Brar, Dr. Sujata, Dr. Rajni Chopra, Dr. Mandanpal (all from Department of Psychology, Panjab University, Chandigarh), Dr. B. S. Dhall (Department of Political Science, Panjab University, Chandigarh), Dr. B. S. Ghuman (Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, Chandigarh), and Dr. Manoj Kumar (Department of Commerce, Panjab University, Chandigarh) for encouragement, genuine help and suggestions.

I am very much indebted to Dr. Hukum Chand Sharma, Government College of Education, Sector 20, Chandigarh for his moral support.

I also acknowledge the cooperation extended to me by Dr. Balbir Chand Josan, D.A.V. College, Jalalabad (District Ferozepur, Punjab).
I owe my special thanks to Principal, Shri V. V. Vinayak, and Staff Member Dr. Manjeet Singh (Kendriya Vidhayala, Chandimandir, District Ambala, Haryana); Principal, Shri M. P. Jolly and Staff Members Shri Brijesh Kaushal, William, P. S., Shri R. K. Thapa (Kendriya Vidhayala, Sector 47, Chandigarh), Principal, Mrs. G. Surjeet Singh (Government Model High School, Sector 10, Chandigarh); Principal, Mrs. Santosh Vig (Government Model High School, Sector 22, Chandigarh) for granting me genuine help during the course of data collection.

I also wish to thank Prof. Dharamvir (Department of Chemical Engineering, Panjab University, Chandigarh); Director, Dr. C. M. Bahl and his Staff Members (Computer Centre, Panjab University, Chandigarh); Shri Balbir Singh (Programmer) and Staff Members (Regional Computer Centre, Sector 17, Chandigarh) for Computer Analysis; Director Mrs. Neelina Arora and Staff Members (National Institute of Computer Technology, Sector 15, Chandigarh) for the preparation of Graphs.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not mention the names of Sardar Chitranjan Singh, Swaran Singh, Ms. Reena Singh, Mr. Deepak Sharma and Ms. Kanu Priya Mohan, who left no stone unturned to provide the initial spark of encouragement to me.

I am thankful to my colleagues Vishwanand Vadav, Jaswinder Singh Gill, Ms. Satinderjeet Kaur, Ms. Prem Lata,
Shri Naresh Bhardwaj, and Sardar Baljit Singh (all students of Department of Psychology, Panjab University, Chandigarh); Shri Sant Ram and Shri Bawa Ram of Mani Majra, Chandigarh for their time to time assistance for the completion of this research work.

My special thanks go to Balak Singh Mussafir, who always extended his hands of co-operation for the completion of this research work.

I am thankful to Ms. Anand, Librarian, Mr. Shamsher Gupta, Deputy Librarian, Shri Roshan Lal Arora and Staff Members (Main Library, Panjab University, Chandigarh); and Smt. Santosh Bhanot, Shri Jagatjeet Singh and Staff Members (Indian Council of Social Sciences Research North-West Regional Centre - Library, Panjab University, Chandigarh), Mrs. Kamlesh Bansal and Mrs. Kiran Sharma (College of Education for Women, Sector 36, Chandigarh), who facilitated my consultation of library work.

The subjects also deserve my appreciations, who despite their age and level of education, cooperated immensely. I am indeed grateful to these adolescents [boys and girls].

I am thankful to Shri M. P. Guru, Shri Dhani Ram, Shri Jaswant Singh, Shri Raghubir Singh, Pandit Kula Nand and Shri Piara Singh [Ministerial Staff, Department of Psychology, Panjab University, Chandigarh] for providing me laboratory help and clerical help for the completion of this research work.
The constant encouragement, affection and patience shown by my revered parents and the financial support given to me by them has indeed overwhelmed me. I am also thankful to my brothers Sardar Kesar Singh Dhillon and Sardar Shamsher Singh Dhillon; sisters Mrs. Rajinder Sandhu and Miss Balwinder Dhillon for their full cooperation in completion of the present research work.

In addition, however, I am grateful to those all ladies and gentlemen who contributed by way of assistance, advice or criticism because of which the study has seen the light of the day.

Lastly, the author would like to express his sincere thanks to Mr. R. K. Jain, Electronics Typist, for his wholeheartedness in the presentation of this thesis in a nice form in the shortest possible time.

Date: 22-11-1991

Bhupinder Singh