ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The success is satisfactory achievement of chosen and most coveted an objective and attainment of which is earnestly desired and worked for with burning enthusiasm and intense interest. In this arduous journey of completing one’s research work, the researcher is indeed indebted to many individuals without whose support, valuable suggestions and motivation and help task would never have materialized. Thus, any formal expression of gratitude is not enough for these wonderful people whom I came across while writing this piece of research work.

The list of names, when I ponder, is too long and it would be impossible to record all the names on a piece paper. The name which reckons my mind the most and shall remain embedded ever is of Dr. R.K Sharma, Professor of Public Administration, Department of Correspondence Studies, Panjab University, Chandigarh who also being the Member of the Senate, Panjab University, Chandigarh, found time for helping and guiding me through this research work. I thank the Almighty by whose Grace he happened to be my Supervisor. I wish to express my deepest sense of gratitude and heartfelt thanks for his suggestions, support, cooperation and continuous encouragement throughout my research pursuit. He instilled in me a sense of inquiry and as a matter of fact all he did for me cannot be subsumed in words or in pages at length. At the same time and in the same spirit I thank and convey my sincerest regards to Mrs. Neelu Sharma, wife of my Supervisor who always greeted me with a smile whenever I called upon Professor R.K Sharma for seeking his valuable inputs.

My grateful thanks to Mr. Sudhir Sharma, Chairman, Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, Chandigarh for being immensely helpful for extending all logistic and support and help from the Library of the Department. conception to completion. As the research process is such a complex academic pursuit that it not only requires scholastic inputs but moral support as well and for both these I had a strong backing.

My dearest and loving parents have been the source of sustained inspiration for me. I take my life’s opportunity to express my deepest love and regards to my parents’, sisters and brothers- in-law for their constant moral support and encouragement, giving me all that I needed to complete this work.
