CONTENTS

Dedication
Acknowledgement i
Abstract ii
Table of Contents iii-iv

CHAPTERS

1. INTRODUCTION 1-28
1.1 Feature stories – the soul of journalistic writing
1.2 Journey of journalistic features – text, context, and reader in feature history
1.3 Rationale of the study
1.4 Significance of the study

2. THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVE 29-49
2.1 Theoretical orientation underlying the concept of text, context and reader of Feature Stories
2.2 Summary

3. REVIEW OF LITERATURE 50-72
3.1 Studies related to Text
3.2 Studies related to Reader and Context
3.3 Identification of gaps: Knowledge/Techniques/Solutions

4. TERMS OF ENQUIRY 73-77
4.1 Aim
4.2 Research Objectives
4.3 Hypothesis
4.5 Operational Definitions

5. METHODOLOGY 78-85
5.1 Stage I: Content Analysis
5.2 Stage II: Survey
5.3 Development of Research Instruments
5.4 Data Presentation and Analysis
6. DATA PRESENTATION AND ANALYSIS
6.1 Trends in Text: Content Analysis
6.2 Trends in Context and Reader: Readership Survey

7. CONCLUSIONS AND INFERENCES
7.1 Major Trends in Text, Context, and Readership of Feature Stories

8. SUGGESTIONS FOR FURTHER RESEARCH
8.1 Strengths of the current study
8.2 Limitations of the current study and suggestions for further research

9. BIBLIOGRAPHY
a) References
b) Works cites

APPENDICES
a) Questionnaire
b) Subject Index