Acknowledgements

I would like to express my thanks to the people who have been very helpful to me during the time it took me to write this thesis.

I have been very fortunate with my supervisor Dr. K. Sharma who provided refreshing insight, his unstinting help, invaluable guidance and cooperation at all stages. His ways of looking at a research problem-defining it, analyzing from different angles and ways to reach the goal-have been a delightful experience. This thesis would not have been possible without the help, support and patience of my supervisor, not to mention his advice and unsurpassed knowledge. The good advice, support has been invaluable on both an academic and a personal level, for which I am extremely grateful.

I am thankful to Prof. A. K. Sinha, present Chairperson, Department of Anthropology, for his constant support and help rendered during this study and for facilitating my work.

I am thankful to Tejinder Kaur, Sandeep Kaur and Shruti Chopra Research Scholars for getting me through and providing me with motivation to finish my work.

For this research, data were essential. Many people helped with this, for which I would like to thank them wholeheartedly. Three Hundred people have filled out questionnaires for me. Without their generosity there would be nothing to work with. Collecting data is invariably a trying experience. There were many people who gave interesting feedback & valuable suggestions, for which I would like to thank them: Nishant Sharma, Sumeet Thawani, Naresh Marella, Ishaan Kumar and the generosity with which Dimple Ma'am helped me with statistics.

Above all, I would like to thank my in-laws, my family and especially my husband for his personal support and great patience at all times. My family and my daughter have given me their unequivocal support throughout, as always, for which my mere expression of thanks likewise does not suffice.

I thank my mentor Dr. Saji Thomas for his support and encouragement throughout. Last but not least, I would like to recognize all those who are involved directly or in some way and whose names may perhaps not be mentioned separately, for their input and wishes towards accomplishing the present undertaken assignment.
