ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First of all, I am beholden to my worthy supervisor, Professor Dr. (Mrs.) Savita Markanda, Department of Education, Panjab University, Chandigarh, who provided the initial spark which ignited my curiosity to work on UNESCO and its impact on the Higher Education System in India. She has been sparing all the time and patience throughout the period of this study.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge the cooperation of Professor Dr. (Mrs.) Asha Gupta who has been inspiring me all along.

Besides the individuals, some institutions and organisations like the UNESCO House, New Delhi; Indian Council of Social Sciences Research, New Delhi; Indian Council of World Affairs, New Delhi; University Grants Commission, New Delhi; Indian National Commission for Cooperation with UNESCO, New Delhi; Association of Indian Universities, New Delhi; Libraries of Panjab University, Chandigarh; Nehru Museum and Library, New Delhi; Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi; extended whole-hearted cooperation, the staff of the Central Secretariat Library, New Delhi, helped me immensely in obtaining the requisite documents.

I shall never forget the genuine help extended by the Librarian and the Staff of the Panjab University Library, Chandigarh; Mrs. Tripta Sondhi, National Officer, and Mr. Gaurav Chadha, Assistant National Officer, Library Documentation & Information Services, Unesco House, New Delhi; Mrs. S. Vaidehi, Assistant Librarian and Information Officer and Mr. S.S. Sandhu, Indian National Commission for Cooperation with Unesco, New Delhi; Mrs. Kiran Ahuja, Assistant Librarian and Mr. R.S. Mor, Senior Assistant Librarian, Indian Council of World Affairs, New Delhi; Mr. Sham Lal, Asstt Librarian, UGC, New Delhi, all of whom helped in the location of documents and collection of the rich data.

Words fail me to describe the help, encouragement and persuasion I received from my father, family members and friends. They provided the much-needed financial and moral support without which this thesis would not have seen the light of the day. Last but not the least, I am grateful to Kanwalbir Singh who printed the thesis immaculately.
