Several institutions and individuals have been helpful in the course of this study. I would particularly like to acknowledge the operation extended to me by the staff in the office of Chief Planner, Punjab and Haryana (Panchkula); Office of the Superintendent Punjab, Haryana; and the librarians at the Archives Punjab and Haryana (Panchkula), Secretariat Libra Punjab and Haryana; Central Library; CRRID; Dwarka Library; Main Library of Punjab University and the Libraries of Departments of History, Sociology, Geography, Economics, Political Science, all at Chandigarh.

I am also thankful to the Indian Council of Historical Research for making available a grant for the completion of this research.

I am grateful to Professor Indu Banga for her valuable suggestions. I have no words to express my gratitude towards my guide Dr. Reeta Grewal for her utmost patience, consideration, operation and constant encouragement in the supervision of the study.

I must acknowledge the help of my husband Major A S M and parents at all stages of this work. Finally, I would like to thank my daughter Drisshti for her patience and understanding.

Chandigarh
October 29, 2000

Rupali Bha