EXPLANATION:

It is found that people differ in their likes, dislikes, personality and habits. Within this booklet you will find questions on such things as your likes, dislikes or habits. The purpose of the questions is not to judge whether your habits or likings are good or bad. They simply aim at indicating your personality type which might help you on many occasions.

This is not a test. There is no right or wrong answer to any question. A question may be answered differently by different persons. For each question in this booklet, several possible answers (two or more) are given. From among these pick out the one best which suits in your case. This will be the right answer for you. You are, therefore, requested to read the questions very carefully and then give your answer. Some questions might appear to you very peculiar or childish, but do answer them as best as you can.

HOW TO INDICATE YOUR ANSWER:

Look at the separate answer sheet supplied to you. This answer sheet contains some columns of rectangular boxes under five blocks from A to E. The serial number printed at the top of each column is the serial number for each question. The numbers printed on the left hand side of each box are the numbers of different answers. Your task will be to find out the answer which suits best in your case and then to put a tick (✓) mark in the appropriate box bearing the serial number of your selected response against the corresponding question number.

TIME LIMIT:

Although there is no definite time limit for answering the questions, it does not usually take more than 30 minutes to answer all the questions. Be sure that you do not skip any question. Your cooperation in answering the questions is earnestly desired.

Do not mark or write anything in this booklet.
