ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a matter of pride and immense pleasure to express feelings for all those people who have helped in numerous ways to put completion on this work. It is always challenging to work for a Ph.D. thesis.

This thesis is the product of many years of work, procrastination, changing minds and opinions and a colossal amount of external assistance.

First of all my overwhelming thanks goes to my respected guide Dr. Seema Chopra, Senior Lecturer G.H.G.H. College of Education, Sidwan Khurd. Her inspiring guidance, constructive and intelligent criticism, her consistent kindness, moral support and her own untiring efforts in a totally informal atmosphere infused in me spirit of dedicated hard work.

With great pleasure and reverence, I must also express my sincere thanks to the co-guide Dr. Tripta Sharma, Principal, L.L.R.Memorial College of Education, Dhudike for providing the facilities and invaluable suggestions which inculcated in me the impetus for my research project.

The help and cooperation in the collection of data for the study, rendered by the students of various schools of Punjab is thankfully acknowledged.

I must sincerely thank my husband, Mr. Jitin Sethi, without whose support and inspiration, this work would not have been completed. I heavily indebted to my in-laws for their invaluable cooperation and continuous inspiration through out my research work.

Finally, I owe a special debt of gratitude to all those who directly or indirectly assisted me and whose help and cooperation made this research work accomplished.

Neetu Narula