ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Often words are too weak a mode of expressing one's inner feeling, especially sense of indebtedness. The same difficulty has been experienced by the researcher in putting on paper the deep sense of gratitude which he owes to his most learned teachers. It is a matter of immense pleasure for me to acknowledge my deep sense of gratitude to Professor S Bhatnagar (Retired) Director, Department of Correspondence Studies Panjab University Chandigarh, whose unstinted guidance and inspiration have always stood me in good stead.

I am deeply indebted to my research supervisor Dr. Sahib Singh Bhayana, Reader in the Department of Public Administration for his ungrudging co-operation, constructive suggestions and erudite guidance. He took keen interest in my work, showed utmost patience and rendered sympathetic assistance whenever I knocked at his door, without which this work have never been completed.

My sincere thanks and deep regards are to Prof. Satya Dev for his inspiration and encouragement, which served me as a beacon light in immeridian darkness. I have been benefited immensely from intellectual discourses afforded by all the faculty members of the Department of Public Administration Panjab University, Chandigarh.

My acknowledgements are also due to the Project Officers (Ambala and Narwana) who very kindly accorded me the permission for conducting the present study. I wish to record my sincere thanks to supervisors, Instructors and other staff of the Projects. I specially owe my gratitude to the Instructors working in various villages for furnishing relevant data, offering meals, accommodation and hospitality which enabled me to complete the present thesis successfully.

It is not possible to list the names of all my well wishers and friends who have willingly assisted me but I would like to thank Mr. M.M. Bedi, Principal P. Sharma and Anil Kumar Dogra (Dharmsala) who vinced personal interests in my work and sought to resolve my difficulties from time to time. I am also greatful to the staff of the Directorate of Adult Education Haryana, Deputy Director Mr. Shital Parkash ICSSR Chandigarh unit. I am also thankful to the staff of the DCS library Panjab University and of the Indian Institute of Public Administration, Directorate of Adult Education, New Delhi for courteous and painstaking help. I thank my friend Mr. Surinder Kumar Panwar who all by himself typed the final draft and for the meticulous care with which he handled the work.

I would be failing in my duty if I do not express my thanks to Mr. Vijay Singh and Khayali Ram of the Department of Correspondence studies for the help rendered by them. I am thankful to the various authors whose writings have been a constant source of stimulation and have been used or quoted in the study.

I owe an unpayable debt and gratitude to my respected mother and sister Kanta (Chandigarh) for their constant help. My expression of gratitude would be inadequate, I owe to Sharda, my wife. She held the home front during my visits to the various parts of the country. Without the loving forebearance of Harish and Jyoti our children, this study could never have been completed.
