BIBLIOGRAPHY

achievement gains and continued parent involvement of 4th grade students who participated in a specific early intervention program with students not participating in the early intervention program. Dissertation Abstracts International, 43, 1417A.

Indian children age 2 1/2 to 5 years: Longitudinal study. New Delhi: National Council of Educational Research and Training.

Abstracts International, 44, 2033A.

Devi, B. (1989). Effect of behaviour

Dunst, C.J., & others. (1988). Family resources, Personal well-being, and early at risk for reading difficulties. California: (ERIC Document Reproduction Service No. ED 297512) predictors of first grade achievement.

Perceptual and Motor Skills, 36, 67-73.

Narula, P.K. (1982). Play preferences of nursery school boys and girls as related to their cognitive development, socio-economic

National Policy on Education. (1986). New Delhi: Ministry of Human Resource and development.

Sevigny, K.E. (1982). A longitudinal study of the cognitive growth of pupils who were participants in preschool program in three Detroit public schools. Dissertation Abstracts International, 42, 4713A.

normal playgroups. Journal of Mental Deficiency Research, 25(2), 113 – 120.

Zantal, W.K., & others. (1988). Early intervention services for preschool children and ensuring qualities and service delivery issues and establishing successful programs. Teaching Exceptional Children, 20(3), 61-64.