Acknowledgements

In the preparation of the present thesis, I owe a huge debt of gratitude to my mentor and supervisor, Dr. Surinder Singh, Professor of History, Panjab University, Chandigarh, whose meticulous understanding of the subject has been an experience worth cherishing. Without his deep insight and thought provoking discussions, it would not have been possible to complete the present work. His professional commitment and personal simplicity always remained a guiding star in my academic career. I also take this opportunity to thank Dr. Davinder Singh, Reader in Laws, Panjab University, for his invaluable suggestions. Dinesh Chahal, Lecturer in Education, Shivalik Institute of Education and Research, S.A.S. Nagar, helped me at various stages of my research. I also thank the staff of Guru Nanak College Killianwali, District Muktsar, for their multifarious support. I am specially indebted to my colleagues Dr. Bharat Bhushan, Amrit Samra, Manjit Sharma and Sukhjinder Brar who often shared my administrative responsibilities in the college, so that I could concentrate on my research.

In the pursuit of both primary and secondary sources, I studied at several libraries and institutes. But, the most important ones are A.C. Joshi Library, Panjab University; library of the Department of History, Panjab University; Dwarka Das Library, Chandigarh; Central State Library, Patiala; library of the Sadhu Ashram, Hoshiarpur; library of the Institute of Islamic Studies, Jamia Hamdard, New Delhi; library of the Indian Council of Historical Research, New Delhi; library of the Archaeological Survey of India, New Delhi; library of the Centre for Historical Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi; Central Secretariat Library, Shastri Bhawan, New Delhi; Delhi Public Library, Delhi and Hardyal Municipal Public Library, Delhi.
I am also blessed with a supportive and loving family. My father, the late Shri R.K. Sharma, always remained a source of inspiration. My mother, Shrimati Puran Bala, motivated me to be true to myself. My brother, Ashutosh taught me perseverance. The prayers of my wife Aditi always reminded me of my aims in life. She silently performed my share of family responsibilities so that I could concentrate on my research work. I am obliged to Shri Harish Sharda and Shrimati Ekta Sharma for the pains they took towards the completion of my thesis. I also thank my father in law, Shri Shubh C. Sharma, mother in law, Shrimati Sharda and brother in law Shri Aman Sharma for their valuable support. I am also obliged to my niece Medha and my daughter Bhaavya who always enabled me to feel the best in life.

I would be failing in my duties if I do not thank Shri Sudershan Singh and Shri Tilak Raj, who assisted me in various administrative works in the Department of History. I also thank Shri Satnam Singh, GTB National College, Dhakha, who meticulously prepared many drafts of the illustrations, which have been included in my thesis.

August 2007

Privatosh Sharma