Acknowledgment

There have been many people during the course of this work who have provided me with their time, money, expertise, patience, intellectual and moral support. It would be impossible to list you all here but you know who you are, I couldn’t have done it without you.

First and foremost, thanks goes to my thesis supervisor (Retd.) Prof. Raj K. Gupta, who has been unfailingly patient and supportive throughout. Working under his guidance I have earned a great deal of scientific knowledge and computational expertise which has made me able to work independently in the field of scientific research. I can not forget to thank Mrs. Shashi Prabha Gupta for her motherly affection, care and of course the delicious food occasionally. Thanks Mam.

This work was funded in parts by the Department of Science and Technology (DST) and Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), New Delhi, India.

I express my thanks to the Chairman, Physics Department, for providing me the required facilities in the department. It is also my pleasure to express my thanks to the staff of the Physics Department for their cooperation and help.

I would like to thank (Retd.) Principal Laxmi Narayan for their help and support.

A big thanks goes to the following people,
My numerous friends, especially Mrs. Gagan Gupta, Dr. Sumit Garg, Mr. Varinderjit Singh and Ms. Shagun Thakur, who have always known how to keep me smiling.

My Seniors, Dr. M. Balasubramaniam, Dr. Manoj K. Sharma, Dr. Monika Manhas, Dr. Dalip Singh Verma, Dr. Sham K. Arun specially, Dr. Makhan Singh Mehta, Dr. BirBikram Singh and Dr. Veena Sharma. They always encouraged me and helped me, whenever I needed.
Thanks are also due to the following:

Doctoral scholars of Physics Department, Panjab University, Mrs. Lovedeep Kaur, Mr. Anil Pratap Singh, Mr. Sundar Kumar, Ms. Kulbir Kaur, Mr. Navneet K Pruthi, Ms. Mamta Oswal, Ms. Manje Bansal and Mr. Gurjeet Singh.

Doctoral scholars of Thapar University, Patiala, Dr. Shefali Kanwar, Ms. Gudveen Sawhney and Ms. Deepika Jain.

I am also thankful to all those who said “NO”; it is because of them I did it myself.

Last but not the least, my parents, Mr. Ram Niwas Gupta and Mrs. Maya Devi, and younger sister, Ritu, for encouraging me and providing me strong and unfailing support to embark on and reach the destination of this journey for knowledge that has taken me miles away from home. They have been the most indispensable source of strength for me. Thank you for everything.
