ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Before undertaking this study, I have been a bit cynical about the long list of names that usually is given under the heading 'Acknowledgements'. I thought it to be just a custom or fashion. But now after actually going through the hazards of the study, I am fully convinced that the acknowledgements are neither a fashion nor a custom, but an expression of a deep sense of gratitude.

I am thankful to Sh. Shital Parkash, Chairman, Department of Public Administration for providing necessary resource facilities during my stay in the department. I am also thankful to all the faculty members - Dr. R.K. Sapru, Dr. (Mrs.) Shayma Bhardwaj, Dr. S.L. Kaushik and others for their kind help.

Patience and perseverance directed my behaviour during the period of my study under the able, inspiring and dynamic guidance of my worthy supervisor Dr. B.S. Ghuman, Reader, Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, Chandigarh. My heart felt gratitude is beyond description for the time and intellect, he devoted throughout this study, to bring this work in the present form without which, I could never have thought of such a venture. I am extremely thankful to Dr. (Mrs.) Dian Kaur Ghuman, who always welcome me with a smile whenever I knocked at the door.

I express my sense of gratitude to the Director, Computer Centre, Panjab University, Chandigarh for being considerate in permitting me to avail computer facilities. My special thanks are due to Mr. S.K. Mohindru who helped me a lot in the analysis pursuit. I am also thankful to Dr. Jerath for sparing time to guide me in the use of statistical methods. A lot of thanks are due to the respondents of my study (lecturers, readers and professors of various colleges and Universities of Punjab and Chandigarh) for their cooperation.

I am greatly indebted to Mrs. Sunila, Librarian, Department of Public Administration, Panjab University, Chandigarh. I am equally thankful to the officials and librarians of Panjab University, Chandigarh, Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana, ICSSR and IIPA Libraries.
New Delhi, for helping me in searching and collecting the needed literature. I have been greatly benefited by the office of the Director of Public Instructions Punjab, the office of the Economic and Statistical Organisation, Punjab. I am thankful to the Principals of various Colleges for providing me an opportunity to interview teachers for collection of data.

Mrs. and Mr. Sawarn Singh deserve all appreciation and graceful thanks, not only for his neat typing but also because he proved to me a moral booster.

My special thanks are due to Smt. Shiela Gujral, Smt. Promila Dandavate and Smt. Suman Krishan Kant, who always encouraged me for pursuing higher studies.

I must acknowledge the encouragement which I received from my friends (especially Ms. Gurvinder Kaur and Mr. Kulbhushan Agnihotri), colleagues and particularly from my revered principal.

Finally my greatest debt is to my husband S.Balbir Singh Sahota who kept me relieved from many household and social responsibilities and has been a perennial source of strength in this endeavour. I thank my sons Mahesh Inder Singh and Ajay Inder Singh for being imaginative and have host of suggestions. The family did not let my enthusiasm dampen at any stage. I am highly grateful to University Grants Commission for providing me Teacher Fellowship facility to complete my Ph.D.

In addition to it, my thanks are also due to all the authors and publishers, whose works I have consulted frequently.

I have tried to mention the sources of my information. I sincerely crave for the indulgence of those who might have remained unacknowledged due to my oversight.

(Madanjit Sahota)
