ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

When I look back several faces appear before my eyes, whom I owe a debt of gratitude.

My sincere thanks are gratefully due to Dr. (Mrs.) Deepti Gupta, my supervisor, for her most valuable guidance, patience, fruitful discussions and insightful comments. I am also indebted to her for appropriate and precise corrections and directions.

My particular gratitude must also be expressed to Professor (Mrs.) Manju Jaidka, Chairperson, Department of English, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for her official support and assistance and all the others who helped me to carry out my study in India.

Thanks are due to PGI, especially Mr. Farshi and Mrs. Rafigan, who permitted me to have access to the students for my experience.

I should also thank Dr. Chandra Mani, Department of Statistics, Panjab University, for his active involvement in the statistical analysis of my data.

Words fail me to express my immense gratitude and deep indebtedness to my parents, for their wise guidelines and constant financial support throughout my stay and study in India. My deepest thanks are also due to my wife, whose unfailing patience and encouragement have been a constant source of inspiration and motivation.

Finally, I would like to thank all those colleagues and friends who have stimulated and guided my thinking over the research period. I shall be failing in my duty if I do not thank Mr. Hajid Reza Momeni, Research scholar, in the Department of Political Science, Panjab University, who has been a source of constant moral support throughout this research effort. He was a real help to me during my stay in India.
