ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The present work is a product of collective effort. A number of persons and institutions have contributed at various levels. Here is an opportunity to acknowledge their contributions.

Words are not sufficient to express my deep felt gratitude to my revered Supervisor, Prof. P.N. Pimpley. His immense erudition, academic brilliance and expertise have enabled me to grapple with the problems. His affection and admonishment have been no less important.

I am thankful to Prof. K.L. Sharma, the Chairman, and Prof. A. Mahajan, the former-Chairman, Department of Sociology, Panjab University for extending all sorts of facilities to me for pursuing research.

I am greatly indebted to Prof. P.N. Mukherji, Indian Statistical Institute, Delhi; Prof. T.K. Oommen, J.N.U., Delhi; and Dr. K.C. Kaistha, Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh. Inspite of time constraints, they have illuminated me with their scholarly insights through discussions on my research problem.

I am grateful to the University Grants Commission for providing me Junior Research Fellowship for my research endeavour.

I owe indebtedness to the authorities of the Libraries of Panjab University, Chandigarh; J.N.U., Delhi; Indian Council of Social Science Research, Delhi; Ratan Tata Library, Delhi University; and Teen Murti Library, Delhi for granting me accessibility to their facilities.

Asutosh, Aswini, Gunakar, Krishna, Murzhan and Posh, my friends, deserve hearty thanks for their inspiration and encouragement.

Who deserves special mention is Anjali, my fiancee. She has, not only, been a great source of inspiration for me, but has rendered a helping hand at every stage of my work, also.

I am highly indebted to the leaders of the movement and the respondents for their cooperation without which the present work would not have been possible.

I owe a lot to my parents, brothers and sister who have consistently encouraged me in my pursuits.

Last but not the least, I thank the ‘family of NEST’ for transforming the manuscript into the present beautiful shape.
