LIST OF TABLES

Table 2.1 Alcon’s (2000a:262) suggested model of Communicative Competence...34
Table 2.2 Basic questions about SLA with respect to ILP........................................44
Table 2.3 Five stages of L2 Request development (From Kasper and Rose, 2002)...66
Table 3.1 Combination of power and distance in the requests situations.................83
Table 3.2 Situational variations of the study .............................................................84
Table 3.3 Nine request strategy types.................................................................85
Table 3.4 Modified list of External Modifications..................................................87
Table 4.1 Request Strategies used by the AENSs for situations 1-4.........................96
Table 4.2 Request Strategies used by the YUEFLLs for situations 1-4.....................97
Table 4.3 Computed Group-wise P-Values between AENSs and YUEF learners of the used request strategies (Situations 1-4).................................98
Table 4.4 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 1.................................................................99
Table 4.5 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 2.................................................................101
Table 4.6 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 3.................................................................102
Table 4.7 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 4.................................................................104
Table 4.8 Request strategies used by the AENSs for situations 5-8.........................105
Table 4.9 Request strategies used by the YUEFLLs for situations 5-8.....................106
Table 4.10 Computed Group-wise P-Values between AENSs and YUEFLLs of the used request strategies (Situations 5-8).................................107
Table 4.11 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 5.................................................................109
Table 4.12 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 6.................................................................110
Table 4.13 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 7.................................................................112
Table 4.14 Group-wise directness level between AENSs & YUEFLLs in situation 8.................................................................114
Table 4.15 Request strategies used by the AENSs for situations 9-12.......................115
Table 4.16 Request strategies used by the YUEFLLs for situations 9-12..................116
Table 4.17 Computed Group-wise P-Values between AENSs and YUEFLs of the used request strategies (Situations 9-12) .......................................................... 117
Table 4.18 Group-wise directness level between the AENSs & YUEFLs in situation 9 ........................................................................................................ 118
Table 4.19 Group-wise directness level between the AENSs & YUEFLs in situation 10 ...................................................................................................... 120
Table 4.20 Group-wise directness level between the AENSs & YUEFLs in situation 11 ...................................................................................................... 122
Table 4.21 Group-wise directness level between the AENSs & YUEFLs in situation 12 ...................................................................................................... 123
Table 4.22.................................................................................................................... 127
Table 4.23.................................................................................................................... 128
Table 4.25 Needs Evaluation of the YUEFL learners ............................................ 135
Table 4.26 Kinds of motivations to learn English .................................................. 146
Table 4.27 Language skills and their degrees of difficulty (from easier to difficult) ........................................................................................................ 148
Table 4.28 Level-wise distribution of classroom credit-hours over language, linguistics, literature and requirement courses ........................ 161