ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

At the very outset, I would like to convey my extreme gratitude to my Supervisors Dr. B. Eswara Rao and Prof. Sajal Nag under the supervision of whom I completed my Ph.D Thesis; I convey my sincere thanks to my supervisors for their kind co-operation and helpful guidance.

I owe a special debt to the staff of Assam State Archive (Guwahati), especially Haren Baisya, whose knowledge about files in this archive is legendary. He never turned down my request of files. The Director, library staff and other staff of the Archive are also very co-operative and helped me in the collection of files and reports in every way possible. The Staff of National Archive of India, New Delhi deserve a special mention for their support and activeness in providing files. I would also like to thank all the officials, Librarians and other staff of West Bengal State Archive, Kolkata, Mizoram State Archive, Aizole, Assam Legislative Assembly, Guwahati, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, New Delhi, National library, Kolkata, Central Secretariat Library, New Delhi, and Library of the Principal Chief Conservator of Forest Office, Guwahati. Nandatalukdar Library, Guwahati, Nabin Chandra Puthibharal, Guwahati, ICHR library, Guwahati, District library, Guwahati, Department of Historical and Antiquarian Studies, Guwahati, Asiatic Society Library, Kolkata, Director of Assam Institute of research for Tribals and Schedule Caste: Guwahati, Omeo Kumar Das Institute of Social science and Development: Guwahati, Assam Administrative Staff College Library: Guwahati, Kamrup Anusandhan Samiti: Guwahati, Kalakhetra library: Guwahati, Baptist Mission Library: Guwahati, Indian Institute of Technology Library: Guwahati, and Assam University Library: Silchar. My heartiest thanks to the Forest Ranger Mr. Chakrapani Ray of Rajiv Gandhi National Park, Orang and Dependra Dev, Field Assistant, Eco System India who helped me to understand the field situation of sanctuary and for their valuable information about the sanctuary.

I extend my heartiest gratitude to the Head of the Department, Dr. Projit Kr.Palit, Dr. Suryasikha Pathak, Dr. J. Guite and all the teachers of the Department of History for their inspirational support in making my research work a success.

I would like to thank all my well-wishers, teachers and my friends who helped me to make this research work possible. Last but not the least, I am indebted to my family members, specially my Mother Mrs. Usha Roy, whose integrity, love and pride are the source of endless inspiration and my father, Mr. Awadhesh Roy, who always encouraged me to give my best for this work. Finally, I thank God who gives me strength to face challenges in life.