*But every moment that comes
Comes after many a rounds
So special is every moment
Who says that only some counts...
I may not recall
May skip since its mind
But what brought this moment
Is every moment if I can rewind.....*

I express my sincere gratitude to my Ph.D. supervisor, Prof. DK Dhawan for giving me the opportunity to work and learn under his able guidance. I thank him for his direction, assistance, and guidance in giving shape to this work. I also thank him for his patience with me and the repeated mistakes which were dealt even more patiently than the previous ones. I appreciate his immense passion and also admire his dedication with which he completes every work efficiently. I am grateful to his practical approach and advice without which I would have not accomplished this arduous task. I thank him for instilling my mind with enthusiasm at times when it appeared difficult. His eager readiness to help, understand and getting the things arranged even at eleventh hour reflects his kind innate nature.

I am greatly obliged to Dr Ashima Pathak, Department of Biotechnology, S D College, for everything she has done for me. I highly appreciate her giving me the opportunity to work in a very interesting area and I thank her for her constant support and guidance throughout my graduate studies.

I owe my sincere thanks to Prof ML Garg, Chairperson, Department of Biophysics for his cooperation and provision of all possible facilities and his inspiring. I thank him for lending me books and magazines to read and thus satiate my curiosity. I thank Prof SN Sanyal for the IBS trips which were not only made memorable with his kind presence but also helped me to view science in broad prospective. I sincerely thank all my teachers Prof Bimla Nehru, Prof FS Nandel, Prof MP Bansal, Dr Ashwani Kaul for making me understand Biophysics in every spectrum. I thank Dr Aneet Saini for being a friend who is always there with valuable advice and I am glad for her being one of the faculty members in the department. I also show my gratitude to Dr Vijayta Dani and Ms. Sarwanarinder Kaur for their help and invaluable suggestions.

I show my earnest gratitude to Dr. Ranvir Singh, National Centre for Human Genome Studies and Research for his great thoughts that will inspire me throughout my journey.

I am also thankful to the technical staff of department of transmission electron microscopy (TEM), AIIMS, New Delhi for providing me with the TEM facility. The financial support rendered UGC-DAE is greatly acknowledged. I owe my sincere thanks to Dr. Savita Attri, Pediatrics center, PGIMER for letting me use Atomic Absorption spectrometry facility.

I am extremely thankful to Mr Krishan Sharma, Mr Damodar, Mr Charan Singh, Mr Kuldeep, Mr Sham Lal, Ms Gurpreet, Ms Alka, Mr Shyam Lal, Mr Dogra, Mr Navinder Kumar, Mr Dinesh kumar and Mr Rupinder for their assistance in my work. I am highly thankful to the Ms Jyoti, for re-arranging the library and also to those who helped her in this work and thus making some wonderful books available.

My research work wouldn't have been complete without the support of Mr Satpal and Mr Babu Ram, in taking great care of the experimental animals and even arranging animals at odd times. I am thankful to Mr. Ram Kumar, Mr Yadav, Mr Ram Chandar and Mr Dharam Singh whose greetings and smiles kept me smiling always.

My sincere thanks to Lt Dr Ashok Kumar who has been more like an elder brother. His advice continues to shape my life ever as I reflect upon the memories. I would like to thank my colleagues and friends, Ms Payal, Ms Neha Singla, Ms. Manpreet, Ms Renuka, Ms Roobee, Ms Poonam, Mr Vivek, Mr Chandan, Mr Honit, Ms. Sukhwinder, Ms. Neha Sharma, Ms Neha Arora Ms. Abhilasha, Ms Pooja, Ms Prachi and last but not least Ms Kinnri for their support during my research work as well as some lighter moments spent together making the lab a tolerable and even at times an enjoyable place to come to each day. I am thankful to Mr Sanjay for his philosophical conversations that will always give sense to everything I observe. I thank my juniors Shruuti, Shilpa, Rajdeep, Neha², Yamini, Neeti, Lizza for keeping my moments lively and wonderful. To my seniors Mr. Praveen and Mr. Anshoo, I owe many thanks. Their straight forwardness always meant and proved positive for me and I also thank them for bearing up with my loads and loads of questions.

Special thanks to my friends Reena di, Barkha and Pinky, I owe them the most warmth even though they are miles apart. I thank my friend Rajwinder for her lively company that always kept my funnier bone healthy and lending me shoulder and ears at all my moments. To my friend, Vaman who is greatly responsible for keeping my morale high and editing the portions of my thesis, I owe special thanks. I am grateful to my unit mates Anju, Archana, Shreya, Nadia and Mehak to make hostel feel like home.

To my dear mummy and daddy, I have no words for them. Not even in a place to say thanks, I can only say whatever I am I owe to you. To my baaaji-beeji, I love you a lot. I remember my dear nana-naani and always seek their blessings. I happily thank my dear brother and my best friend Gaurav, for giving me company in my trips to home and even working as a part time courier service for my entire requirements. I thank you for driving me for long hours safely but soundly with memorable little fights. The same thanks goes in extension to all my brothers and sisters for calling me often and making me feel loved and happy. To my dear family who has been with me, in happiness, in distress, always same, not judging not forcing, even when it appears I am at wrong, you made it right, I am lucky to have you all.

In the whole process, the tiny mute animals that were sacrificed for this research work, taught me the most than anything else.

Thank you!
