CONTENTS

Acknowledgements .......................... I

List of Maps and Tables ............. II-III

Acronyms ............................... IV-VII

CHAPTER

1. INTRODUCTION .......................... 1-16

2. SECURITY AND COOPERATION: POST COLD WAR SCENARIO .......... 17-66

3. CENTRAL ASIA: INDIA’S INTERESTS ............. 67-149

4. ISLAMIST EXTREMISM IN CENTRAL ASIA: A SECURITY IMPLICATION FOR INDIA .......... 150-201

5. INTERPLAY OF US, CHINA, RUSSIA IN CENTRAL ASIA: INDIA’S SECURITY AND STRATEGIC INTERESTS ......... 202-265

6. INDIA’S ENERGY SECURITY AND COOPERATION WITH CENTRAL ASIA .......... 266-311

7. INDIA-CENTRAL ASIA ECONOMIC COOPERATION IN TRADE AND INVESTMENT .......... 312-340

CONCLUSION ............................. 341-350

BIBLIOGRAPHY ......................... 351-381
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am extremely grateful to my worthy supervisor Dr. Surinder Kler Shukla for her support and able guidance which proved helpful in the completion of my thesis. I express my deep gratitude to Dr. Ronki Ram, Chairperson Department of Political Science, for his useful suggestions and scholarly guidance. I owe a great deal to Dr. Deepak K. Singh for his inspiration to work, invaluable guidance and constant support.

It is my proud privilege to place on records my sincere thanks to Prof. Jai Narain Sharma, Chairman Department of Gandhian Studies, Panjab University Chandigarh, for his utmost encouragement and suggestions for modifications in the thesis.

I am indebted to my parents for their continued moral support and encouragement which enabled me to face stress and strain during long period of arduous studies. I am beholden to my brother Amnish Aggarwal who provided me with important inputs concerning certain specific topics dealt with in this thesis. I will be failing in my duty if I don’t express my gratitude to my elder sister Dr. Aradhana Gupta and brother-in-law Dr. Ajay Gupta, their affection, support and constant motivation gave me stimulus to work diligently and devotedly.

I am also thankful to the library and office staff of the Department of Political Science for their wholehearted cooperation extended to me.

NEERJA

15/5/09

NEERJA