ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my privilege to have Dr. Ananda Bhushan, Reader, Department of Education, Panjab University, Chandigarh as supervisor. I learnt from him not only how to carry a research work but also how to guide and encourage a researcher. He was always available to me for any help in connection with the research work. It remained for me a pleasure to discuss and work with him. He provided me an example of a friend and guide. I am sincerely grateful to him for his untiring and inestimable pains-taking help at every stage of the work for improving the quality of my study throughout the period of the investigation. It would not be enough just to express in words my feelings, but I will carry his impression throughout my life for his constant inspiring, generous, scholarly and competent supervision and follow up of the work progress by which the investigator could bring his research work into a final shape.

I am grateful to Professor S.S. Mathur for his proper guidance and assurance to the process of my enrolment in the department during his chairmanship period. I also express my hearty gratitude to all those faculty members in the department of education, Panjab University, Chandigarh who had encouraged me for my work and showed humanly behaviour. My due respect and sincere gratitude goes to Dr. (Mrs.) Malvinder Ahwa for her editing work of my research report and her continuous inspiration for my work.

I am highly thankful to the Chairman, Dr. (Mrs.) B.K. Saini for providing me the opportunity and facilities to conduct my research work in the Department of Education, Panjab University, Chandigarh.

I am thankful to all the officers, headmasters, school teachers, campus chiefs, campus faculty members and student teachers of Nepal who participated into the study by sparing their valuable time.

I also express my sincere gratitude to all concerned authorities of Tribhuvan University, Nepal who impartially offered me this opportunity for Ph.D. study.

I should express my gratitude to Mr. Trilochan Singh for his meticulous typing work of all the report and for his friendly behaviour and cooperation during my stay at Chandigarh.

Lastly, I remain thankful to Mr. B.K. Malla and Mrs. Janaki Malla for their cooperation on producing the tools for data collection; Mr. S.K. Malla for his taking care of me at Chandigarh inspite of his hard study and Miss Chanda Malla for taking care of her mother and inspiring me to complete my avowed research study at its best.
