ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Once again, opportunity comes my way to thank my guide, Dr. (Mrs.) Pushpinder Syal, for enabling me to make the journey from M. Phil dissertation to Ph.D thesis. Long acquainted with her erudition and insight, it is her human touch that has made me view not only the topic in hand but many things more in wider perspectives, goading me to dream more milestones.

My heartfelt thanks also go to Dr. (Mrs.) Puneet Bedi, Principal, MCMDAV College for Women, Chandigarh, who not only encouraged but also facilitated me in completing the task.

My colleague, Ms. Jatinder Kaur, the walking catalogue, who was always ready to browse through the bookshelves with me despite her pressing schedules.

And finally, my parents, who, as usual, were rock-solid in their support and understanding, making me marvel for the umpteen time at the phenomena called mother and father.

And my children, Aastha and Rohit—the twin sources of my inspiration—who watched wide-eyed and lived the ups and downs with me.

Date: 8-8-2005

Chandigarh

Mridula Bhardwaj