Acknowledgement

During the course of the present investigations I have piled up a burden of debt to the many individuals in an almost unknowing manner. Though I can never satisfactorily acknowledge the gratitude which I owe to them, I have ventured to record my heartfelt thanks to the best of my abilities.

I am placed in an enviable position of having the opportunity to work under the guidance of accomplished teacher and eminent scientist Prof. (Mrs.) Neelima R. Kumar, Department of Zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh. I am deeply indebted to her for all her ideas, her unflinching interest in my work and foremost for her never ending optimism. She inspired me on by way of her untiring support, supreme guidance, patience, penetrating criticism and seemingly infinite belief in me. She is acknowledged, in particular, for introducing me to the mesmerizing world of bees.

I am highly obliged to Prof. (Mrs.) T. Gill, Chairperson, Department of Zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for providing me with the necessary research facilities during the tenure of this work. I am also grateful to Prof. S.K. Tanuja and Prof. S. Chaudhry, ex-Chairmen Department of Zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for their support and cooperation during my work.

Dr. Ram Kumar, Professor-cum-Senior Scientist, Dr. Y.S. Parmar University of Horticulutre and Forestry, Nauni (Solan), HP has been the motivator and his help in everyway deserves special thanks.

Special credit goes to Prof. M.S. Saini, Head, Department of Zoology, Punjabi University, Patiala for his kind support and help in the identification of insect species.

I am also thankful to Prof. H.R. Pajni, Eminent Scientist, for his moral support and valuable help in every possible way.

I am enormously thankful to Prof. (Mrs.) P. Tewari and Prof. P.K. Mittal, Department of Zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for their help and keen interest in my work.

Prof. Narinder Kumar, Department of Statistics, Panjab University, Chandigarh deserves special thanks for helping me in the statistical analysis.

I warmly acknowledge my revered teachers in the department for their precious support and encouragement throughout the research period.

I would also like to thank the non-teaching staff of the department.
Thanks are also due to my labmates in the Department of Zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh.

Remarkable thanks to my juniors, Sonia, Rajiv, Rakesh Chauhan and Navreet for their incalculable help in every possible way.

My friends Dr. Deepak Wadhawan, Jitesh, Monika Airi, Vivek Goel, Indu, Nisha, Manesh Kumar, Ashiwan, Sanjay Negi, Sukhjinder, Reshu Mandal, Mamtesh, Ravneet Uppal, Narinder Kumar, Jatinder Chadha, Zahid Noor, Rashpal Singh, Vidhyapat and Susheel Tiwana have helped me in difficult times and I shall always be thankful to them.

I gratefully applaud the absolutely indispensable support of my friends especially Dr. Yogesh K. Rawal, Rajiv Nagil and Jeetu Jaskanwar Singh whose companionship not only made this scientific journey easier but also helped me through those times when one is caught at emotional crossroads.

My colleagues in Department of Police, Haryana especially Mr. Ajay Kumar and Sh. Raj Kumar Poonia also deserves grateful thanks.

Remarkable credit goes to Mr. Shashi Kant Gupta of Guru Graphics, Botany Department, Panjab University, Chandigarh for typing the manuscript and working with me at all odd hours.

My acknowledgement of thanks would be farce, if I do not endeavour to find appropriate words to record my inexpressible thanks to my brother-in-law Late Sh. Shashi Mehra, who was my constant philosophical and motivating companion.

How should I acknowledge my mother and all my family members, I am at loss of words. I can never equal their contributions. Their perennial material and spiritual support guided my life and I owe to them whatever I am today. I would like to acknowledge the contribution of my elder brother, Sh. Rajinder Kumar and Bhabhiji whose constant support and encouragement kept me going through thick and thin. My niece, Jyotsna deserves special thanks for all the love she showered while I was working towards the compilation of this thesis.
