With great pleasure and a deep sense of gratitude, I express my heartfelt thanks to my supervisors Prof. R.C.Sobti, Vice-chancellor, Department of Biotechnology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, India; Dr L. M. Bharadwaj, Dy. Director, Biomolecular Electronics and Nanotechnology Division (BEND), Central Scientific Instruments Organisation (CSIO), Chandigarh, India; Dr R. P. Bajpai, Vice-Chancellor, Guru Jambheshwar University of Science and Technology, Hisar (Haryana), India and former Director, CSIO, Chandigarh for their excellent guidance and support throughout my Ph. D. programme. They have been a source of constant encouragement and unfailing enthusiasm. I am grateful for their untiring and selfless devotion towards the progress of the work. I thank them for introducing me to the fascinating field of Bionanotechnology and for providing me the best of facilities one can ever get. Their scientific temperament and pursuit for excellence have been a strong source of motivation for me. I assereate without hesitation that their alacrity in clarifying doubts, adroit handling of delicate issues and to berate for forgetfulness helped me in learning science in a proper manner. I am greatly in debt to them.

I am exhilarated to acknowledge the kind help rendered by Dr. Pawan Kapur, Director, Central Scientific Instruments organisation (CSIO), Chandigarh, India, for providing me all the necessary facilities. I am grateful to him not only for help rendered at all stages but also for inculcating in me the scientific aptitude needed for research. The help and constant encouragement as well as the congenial and warm atmosphere created by him is something that I can never overlook.
I am also grateful to Dr. M.L. Singla, Decision Unit Incharge at CSIO, Dr. Ghanshayam, Head, MID, Scientist, CSIO, and Dr. Jagdeep Kaur, Reader, Department of Biotechnology, Panjab, University, Chandigarh, India for their support and providing best of facility possible to this endeavor.

There is not enough space to write about Prof. Vani Brahmachari, my former teacher and Director, Dr. B. R. Ambedkar Centre for Biomedical research (ACBR), Delhi University, Delhi; Dr. Daman Saluja, Reader and Dr. Madhu Chopra, Reader, my former teachers and M.Sc. thesis supervisors, ACBR, Delhi University, Delhi, who have been everything for me throughout even when I stay so far away from them. They have constantly been with me during rough and smooth phases of my research work. I am deeply touched by their inspirations, meticulous suggestions and obtrusive criticism towards goal-oriented research. They have understood and supported me even when things went wrong. I sincerely appreciate their concern towards me.

Beside, I am extremely beholden to my Seniors Dr. Rakesh Singh, Dr. Manisha Yadav, Dr. Rambir Singh Sehrawat and Dr. Poonam Sehrawat, who are more than a senior to me. They have been ever ready to spare their precious time towards my research and shown utmost concern about the progress of my research work intermittently.

I am obliged to all my fellow team members, namely Late Dr. Rakesh Kumar, Mr A. K. Shukla, Dr. Amit L. Sharma, Dr. Mrs. Inderpreet Pillai, Dr. Sandeep Kumar Vashisht, Mr. Ranvinder Singh, Mr. Sandeep Koundal, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Sunita, Mr. C. K. Dikshit, Mr. Ishwinder Sethi, Mrs. Reena, Mr. Rajesh Madan, Mr. Ashwani Kumar, Mr. Satish
Kumar and Mr. Satinder for providing a congenial, healthy and conducive atmosphere in the laboratory.

I wish to extend my thanks from the innermost layer of my heart to Mrs. Harsimran Kaur, Mr. Nikhil Kirtipal, Mrs. Richa Rastogi thakur, Mrs. Poonam Yadav, Ms. Divya Khanna, Mr. R.K.Bharadwaj, Ms. Sajeela, Mr. Hitender and Mr. Rajkumar for providing their unconditional support during the course of my Ph.D.

Let me say special “thank you” to Mr. Ranjay Prasad, Mr. Amol. P. Bhondekar, Scientis, CSIO, Chandigarh, India, Mrs. Seema Bhondekar, Mr. Subhash, Mr. Kishor, Mr. Karan and their families who have shown confidence in me and spared their precious time with me and provided unconditional support.

I wish to thanks all the faculty members of CSIO for their co-operation for helping me to conduct my work smoothly. Further, I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all the members of non-technical staff for their co-operation and for helping me to conduct my work smoothly.

I greatly acknowledge Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), Human Resource Development Group (HRDG), New Delhi for providing me the research fellowship.

I sincerely wish to thank all of the people, I incurred even a belittle help during this period, if I have forgotten anybody.

Last, but not least, I thank my family: my parents for giving me life in the first place, for educating me, for their unflinching encouragement, moral support, for their valiant anticipations that has given me resolute vigour and for unconditional support and encouragement to pursue my interests, even when the interests went beyond boundaries of language, field and geography.
