ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a matter of pride for me to have done research under Professor M.L. Raina and be known as his student. Knowledgeable, hence Dr. Raina is a difficult guide to get along with; but his commitment and motivation always inspired me to complete this thesis. His upbraiding and criticism have been excruciating at times, yet rewarding. I am indebted to him.

I must express my gratitude to Professor Jatinder Mohan, Department of Psychology, Panjab University for initiating me into research and procuring two of the novels from overseas: Parade's End and Antic Hay.

Chandigarh,
March 29, 1990

Vijay Kumar