DEDICATIONS

Any attempt to list the people and opportunities with which my life is richly blessed would be like trying to count stars in the heavens. Yet among these stand few individuals whose profound impact deserves special acknowledgement and to whom I would like to dedicate this thesis.

To my mentor, Dr. Kashmir Singh, who guided and supported me in the completion of this thesis. Sir, you have been supportive since the days I began working on safed musli as a graduate. Ever since, you have supported me not only by providing a research fellowship over almost for four years, but also academically and emotionally through the rough road to finish this thesis. And during the most difficult times when working on the transcriptome analysis of safed musli, you gave me moral support and the freedom to work at IGIB. Your encouragement not only made me grow as a researcher but also as an instructor and an independent thinker. Your influence will never fade in my life.

To my Parents, who provided me an excellent example of hard work and pride in a job well done. Thank you Papa, for your trust on me that always motivated and supported me in all my pursuits. Thank you Ma, for your evening calls which never made me feel alone in the hostel. Thank you for bearing my mood swings during tough times in the completion of my thesis. No words can describe my love for you.
