I wish to express my deep gratitude to my teacher, Dr. (Mrs.) N. Mukerji, Ph.D. (Louisiana), Reader, Department of English, Panjab University, who supervised the thesis with critical insight and constant encouragement. I am indebted to her in particular for the time she gave so freely to discussions and the patience with which she read through the thesis, commented on it and made suggestions for its improvement.

I gratefully acknowledge the help given me by Professor Jagdish Chander, Ph.D. (Wisconsin), Head of Department of English, Panjab University, Chandigarh.

I wish to express my appreciation for the financial and academic support given me by the American Studies Research Centre, Hyderabad and two of its Academic Associates, Dr. Amritjit Singh and Dr. Isaac Sequeira. By granting me study leave, the D.A.V. College Management Committee and Principal N.D. Grover have put me under deep obligation.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. Narinder Mohan Kukkar, Endocrinologist, Brooklyn and Cumberland Hospitals, New York, for making dollar payment to M/S Houghton Mifflin Company who do not have rights to sell their publications in India.
I take this opportunity of thanking Mrs. Neda M. Westlake, Curator, The Rare Book Division of Pennsylvania Library for sending me the Xerographic copy of Dos Passos's novel Streets of Night, and Professor Anthony Winner of University of Virginia, Charlottesville, for sending me a printed copy of "The Characters of John Dos Passos," published in Wissenschaft Und Unterricht, Band II, Heft I, (1969).

Finally, with respect and admiration, I express my gratitude to my wife, Shukla, who looked after the family with complete dedication and devotion during my long absence from home.
