ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This journey has been quite a long one; and I am sure glad it is over! I would like to extend my appreciation to all those who have been instrumental in shaping this work.

No words can adequately measure the sense of gratitude that one owes to her teacher guide and mentor, who shapes the destiny of her pupil. This opportunity gives me a privilege to express my indebtedness to my mentor and ideal teacher Prof. Mohinderjit Kaur Teja, Former Chairperson, Department of Sociology, Co-ordinator – Masters in Social Work, Centre for Emerging Areas in Social Sciences, Punjab University Chandigarh. Her encouragement, constructive criticism ever helping attitude helped me to achieve this endeavor. Her scholarship and authoritative knowledge has been a great source of learning and inspiration. All these years of her support and her concern for the students has helped to take this effort to a conclusion. It has been a great privilege to work under her and be her student. “Madam thank you so much for seeing me through this.”

I would take this opportunity to thank and express my profound gratitude to Dr. Harinder K. Bali, Former Additional Professor, Department of Cardiology, PGIMER, Chandigarh and presently consultant Cardiologist, Department of Cardiology, Fortis hospital Mohali, for his critical appreciation and deep insight into the subject. His authority in medical knowledge and insight helped me in undertaking this work with ease. He gave me valuable advice especially in regards to the patients which has helped me give a final shape to this manuscript. Thank you so much for helping me in formulating this research work and helping me in giving a final shape to it.

With a feeling of indebtedness and gratitude, I thank Dr. Subash Varma, Professor and Head, Department of Internal Medicine, PGIMER – Chandigarh. All these years that I have been working under him, he has always helped me in my endeavor and without his support I would not have been able to complete my thesis.

I would like to thank Dr. Dheeraj Gupta, Additional Professor, Department of Pulmonary Medicine, PGIMER - Chandigarh. He has also been instrumental in giving me timely advice and all the help and support time to time. His friendly and encouraging nature always gave me the push I needed to go forward.

Dr. Ashutosh N. Aggarwal what can I say! Well I wouldn't hesitate in saying that he is a “borderline genius”. He has been a great help in interpreting and analyzing the data and all the other stuff – a special “thanks for the help with statistics”. His cheerful attitude and encouragement went a long way to accomplish this endeavor.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to Dr. John G Maeland, Institute of Hygiene and Social Medicine, University of Bergen, Norway, for helping me sending very valuable literature. His gesture and helping attitude helped me immensely in formulating and giving a shape to my study.

I fall short of words to express my gratitude for my special friend Jo and her sisterly support. I would not have been able to complete all this without her help, support and encouragement when I needed it the most. “Thank you so much Jo”. Munna, without you my thesis would have been incomplete. Thank you for your lovely poetry.

My friend Preeti thanks for being there all these times.

Thank you Amar Vivek for lending me an ear at all those times I have troubled you.

I thank Chikoo for all the efforts he has put in. His suggestions and critique have been very helpful.
Mom you are the worlds best! No words can adequately express my feelings thanks and all. She has been a role model and an inspiration and the sacrifices she has made. I would not have been what I am today if not for her. One thing I have learned under her is that success is not the destination but a journey. I wouldn’t have been able to undertake this journey at the very onset if not without her.

My father, who has always given me strength and valuable advice all through difficult times .... Dad thanks for being there.

My dear brother Manu, who has always stood by me like a rock! He has stood by me always and encouraged me to complete my work.

Last but not the least, I take this opportunity to thank my dear sister & Jiju who’ve faced so many of my temperamental phases. Special thanks to all my friends for being there.

I am also indebted to my patients without whom this study was impossible. They not only reposed their confidence in me and shared their most personal thoughts and feelings which gave me a new perspective as well insight and as the encouragement to further my knowledge which I can apply to help other patients in future.

Never but the least I have always felt the divine hand the blessings of Bhagavan who has seen me through this - “thank you”.
