ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I owe a great debt of sincere gratitude to my learned supervisor, Dr. P. C. Sundar, Reader, Department of Psychology, Panjab University, whose inspiring guidance, stimulating encouragement and valuable help enabled me to accomplish this study.

I am thankful to Dr. (Mrs.) R. K. Sijhawan, Head of Psychology Department, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for providing all the necessary facilities for the completion of this study.

Thanks are due to the "charities" of different "Gurukulas" and principals and teachers of different schools for all the facilities they so graciously granted in the organization of the testing sessions in their respective institutions.

My thanks are also due to my subjects - the students who participated - all of whom were very friendly and cooperative.

We must thank Dr. R. E. Cattell, Research Professor in Psychology, Illinois University, for his encouragement and very helpful comments on the design of the study.
