ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is my sincere duty to express my profound gratitude to all those who helped me in the completion of this work.

I express my foremost thanks to Dr. S.R.K. Chopra, Professor and Head of the Department, who blessed me with every possible help to conduct this study. He has been a constant source of inspiration to me throughout the period of this work.

My very special gratitude is due to my worthy supervisor Dr. V. Bhalla. I feel greatly obliged to him for his able guidance and scholarly direction. A fine embodiment of Guru, in the classical Indian tradition, he represents not only learning and dynamism but also affection and complete care of his students. This volume is a dedication to his cooperative spirit.

A special acknowledgement is due to Dr. C.R. Rao, Director, Indian Statistical Institute, Calcutta, whose invaluable suggestions and criticism gave a new angle to the statistical treatment dealt in this report.

I am indebted to my revered colleague, Mr. Baldev Singh for his multifarious help, which he rendered so willingly with a smile. His excellent photography and apt suggestions helped to beautify this work.
I am thankful to following persons for their time to time suggestions, criticism and loan of literature during the period of this study.
