ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

After attaining my master’s degree, I was standing on the round about where from so many metallic grey paths arise, suddenly there was black out in front of my eyes after my father went to the abode of almighty. I was lonely in the crowd on the busy road like a blind person. Thanks to Almighty for sending me to the door of PGIMER to serve the humanity. I feel that this is the place where I have basically grown. Each day was a part of learning. I must take an opportunity to convey my gratitude and thanks to all those without whose active support I could not have gone along with the research.

I acknowledge all the eminent, highly respected, Honorable individuals and prestigious organizations, for their help without which it would not have been possible for me to do this study.

The first and foremost to whom I am indebted and express my deep sense of gratitude is my esteemed teacher and research mentor, Prof. Sukhbir Kaur for her invaluable guidance, constructive criticism, encouragement at every stage of study and taking keen interest in bringing this work to the present stage. I feel pride and privileged to have worked under her kind supervision and guidance. She always consoled me and encouraged me like a GURU during my difficult times.

I am grateful to Prof. N.R. Kumar, Prof. S.K.Taneja and Prof T. Gill, present and ex-chairpersons, Department of Zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for providing me with the necessary research facilities and timely help during the tenure of this work.

I am extremely grateful and highly obliged to the Director, PGIMER, Chandigarh, for providing me the permission to pursue the study along with my first and formost duty to serve the institute. I am indebted to Director Health Services (Punjab) and Medical Superintendent, General Hospital, Sector-16, Chandigarh for their permission to work at PHC and slums in and around Chandigarh. I am extremely grateful and thankful to Commissioner, Municipal Corporation, Chandigarh for their permission to work at slaughter house under the supervision of veterinarian. I would also like to thank Dr. Kamboj, Incharge slaughter house, Chandigarh, for their help during handling the animals at slaughter house.

I am extremely grateful and highly thankful to Dr. Elisabeth Carniel, Director of National Reference Centre for Yersinia, INSTITUE PASTUER, Paris for serotyping and biotyping of isolated pathogenic strains for my study.

I am thankful to Prof. Dr. Deepak Kaul, H.O.D Experimental Medicine & Biotechnology, PGIMER, Chandigarh and Dr. NK Ganguly, former H.O.D Experimental Medicine & Biotechnology, PGIMER, Chandigarh and Director ICMR, New Delhi, Prof.
S. Majumdar, Ex-H.O.D Experimental Medicine & Biotechnology, PGIMER, Chandigarh and Prof. Rakesh Sehgal, Department of Parasitology, PGIMER, Chandigarh for their moral support and valuable help in every possible way and keen interest in my work. I deeply acknowledge my esteemed teachers in the department for their precious support and encouragement throughout the tenure of this research work.

I am extremely thankful to Mrs. Sunita Sapru, Department of Community Medicine, PGIMER, Chandigarh; Dr. Tejinder Kaur, Dr. Jaspreet Kaur and Mrs. Jyoti Joshi Bhatt, Department of Zoology, Punjab University, Chandigarh, for helping me in compilation of the thesis. It would not have been possible to meet the deadline without their help.

I would also like to thank the non-teaching staff, especially, Dr. V.P. Sharma, Mr. Bir Singh, Mr. Kartar Singh, S. Ajmer Singh, Mr. Kewal Krishan, Mr. Subash, Department of Zoology, Punjab University, Chandigarh, for their official assistance when they would gladly accede to my urgent and untimely calls.

My research life would not have been enjoyable and exciting without the company of my friends and colleagues Dr. Dinesh Verma, Dr. Bhupinder Singh, Dr. Hans Raj, Dr. Vivek, Dr. Harish Chandar and Sandeep.

My special thanks to respected Dr. Dibya Jyoti Banerjee and Dr. Rajayashari Bhattacharraya who helped me and gave courage to choose the right path to complete this thesis in this present shape.

I shall be failing in my duty if I do not express my deep sense of obligation for offering her constant cooperation, encouragement and I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to my wife Lakhwinder Kaur, a dearest friend who not only showed immense patience to do my best during the course of this study. My fond gratitude to my son Gurbaz Singh and daughter Saloni Singh.

Above all, I would like to thank the Almighty for giving me the strength and courage to accomplish this task.

RAJENDER PAL SINGH
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

After attaining my master’s degree, I was standing on the round about where from so many metallic grey paths arise, suddenly there was black out in front of my eyes my father love to almighty. I am lonely in the crowd at world busy road like a blind person. Thanks to Almighty for sanding me to the door of PGIMER to serve the humanity. I feel that this is the place where I have basically grown. Each day was a part of learning. I must take an opportunity to convey my gratitude and thanks to all those without whose active support I could not have gone along with the research.

I acknowledge the all the eminent, highly respected, Honorable individuals and prestigious organizations, for their help in my study without which it would not have been possible for me to do this study.

The first and foremost to whom I am indebted and express my deep sense of gratitude to my esteemed teacher and my research mentor Prof. Sukhbir Kaur for her invaluable guidance, constructive criticism, encouragement at every stage of study and taking keen interest in bringing this work to the present stage. I feel pride and privileged to have worked under her kind supervision and guidance. She always consoled me and encouraged me like a GURU during my difficult times.

I am grateful to Prof. N.R. Kumar, Prof. S.K. Taneja and Prof. T. Gill, present and ex-chairpersons, Department of Zoology Panjab University Chandigarh, and Prof T. Gill, for providing me with the necessary research facilities and timely help during the tenure of this work.

I am extremely grateful and highly obliged to The Director, PGIMER, Chandigarh (UT), INDIA, for providing me the permission to pursue the study along with my first and for most duty to serve the institute. I am indebted to Director Health Services (Punjab) Medical Superintendent, General Hospital, Sector-16, Chandigarh for their permission to work at PHC and slums in and around Chandigarh. I am extremely grateful and thankful to Commissioner, Municipal Corporation, Chandigarh for their permission to work at slaughter house under the supervision of veterinarian. I would also like to thank the veterinarian Dr Kamboj, veterinarian In charge slaughter house, Chandigarh, for their help during handling the animals at slaughter house.
I am extremely grateful and highly thankful to Dr Elisabeth CARNIEL, Director of National Reference Centre for Yersinia, INSTUIT PASTUER, Paris for serotyping and biotyping of isolated pathogenic strains for my study.

I am thankful to Prof. Dr. Deepak Kaul H.O.D Experimental Medicine & Biotechnology, PGIMER, Chandigarh (UT), INDIA, Dr. Prof N.K Ganguly former H.O.D Experimental Medicine & Biotechnology, PGIMER, Chandigarh and Director ICMR, NEW DELHI, Prof. S. Majumdar Ex- H.O.D Experimental Medicine & Biotechnology, PGIMER, Chandigarh and Prof. R. Sehgal Department of Parasitology PGIMER, Chandigarh for their moral support and valuable help in every possible way and keen interest in my work, I deeply acknowledge my esteemed teachers in the department for their precious support and encouragement throughout the tenure of this research work.

I am extremely thankful to Mrs. Sunita Sapru, Department of Community Medicine, PGIMER, Chandigarh; Dr. Tejinder Kaur, Dr. Jaspreet Kaur & Mrs. Jyoti Josh department of Zoology, Punjab University, Chandigarh. For helping me in compilation of the thesis. It would not have been possible to meet the deadline without their help.

I would also like to thank the non teaching staff, especially, Dr. V.P. Sharma, Mr. Bir Singh, Mr. Kartar Singh, S. Ajmer Singh ji Mr. Kewal Krishan, Mr. Subash. Department of the zoology, Panjab University, Chandigarh for their official assistance work when they would gladly accede to my urgent and untimely calls.

My research life would not have been enjoyable and exciting without the company of my friends and Colleagues Dr. Dinesh Verma, Dr. Bhupinder Singh, Dr. Hans Raj, Dr. Vivek, Dr. Harish Chandar, Mrs Pooja Suri, Dr. Harish Chander and Sandeep.

My Special thanks to respected Dr. Dibya Jyoti Banerjee and Dr. Rajayashari Bhattacharraya who help me and gave courage to choose the right path to complete this thesis in this present shape.

I shall be failing my duty if I do not express my deep sense of obligation for offering her constant cooperation, encouragement and I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to my wife Lakhwinder Kaur, a dearest friend who not only showed immense patience to do my best during the course of this study. My fond gratitude to my son Gurbaz Singh and daughter Saloni Singh.

I thanks all above, for their help and express my deep sincere sense of gratitude

RAJENDRA PAL SINGH

20/12/2011