CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION

1.1 Definition of Attitude 3
1.2 Meaning of Political Attitudes 5
1.3 Studies related to the structure of Political Attitudes 6
1.4 Statement of the problem 11
1.5 Operational statement of the problem 12
1.6 Theoretical Basis of the problem 13
1.7 Scope of Study 13
1.8 Objectives of the study 14
1.9 Statistical Techniques 15
1.10 Review of chapters 16

CHAPTER II PLAN AND PROCEDURE

2.1 Development of the Attitude Scale 17
2.2 Development of the Semantic Differential Scales 18
2.2.1 Selection of the concepts 19
2.2.2 Selection of Scales 20
2.2.3 Format of the Semantic Differential Scale 21
2.3 Development of Teacher’s Background Questionnaire 21
2.4 Sample 21
2.5 Classification Problem 23
2.6 A Classification Criterion 30
III  FACTORIAL STRUCTURE

- 3.1 Internal Consistency 31
- 3.2 A factor analysis of the response to the attitudinal measure 32
- 3.3 Interpretation of Factors 33
  - 3.3.1 Political Goals - Factor I 34
  - 3.3.2 Political Functioning - Factor II 37
  - 3.3.3 Political Life Style - Factor III 41
  - 3.3.4 Electoral Politics - Factor IV 41
  - 3.3.5 Political Issues - Factor V 42
  - 3.3.6 Faith in Purposive Politics - Factor VI 42
  - 3.3.7 Emerging Political Trends - Factor VII 45
  - 3.3.8 Political Tactics - Factor VIII 45
  - 3.3.9 Political World View - Factor IX 48
- 3.4 A view on the Factors 48
- 3.5 Relationships among the nine factor scales 52
- 3.6 Reliabilities of Factor Scales 54
- 3.7 Validity of the measure 56

IV  CORRELATES OF THE ATTITUDINAL MEASURE

- 4.1 Hypotheses 58
- 4.2 Design of the study 59
- 4.3 Testing the Assumption of Analysis of Variance 60
  - 4.3.1 Assumption of normality 60
  - 4.3.2 Testing the Assumption of Homogeneity of variances 61
- 4.4 The Null Hypotheses 62
- 4.5 Testing of Hypotheses 64
  - 4.5.1 Political Goals (I) 66
4.5.2 Political Functioning (II) 75
4.5.3 Political Life Style (III) 89
4.5.4 Electoral Politics (IV) 95
4.5.5 Political Issues (V) 111
4.5.6 Faith in Purposive Politics (VI) 122
4.5.7 Emerging Political Trends (VII) 122
4.5.8 Political Tactics (VIII) 146
4.5.9 Political World View (IX) 154

V
COGNITIVE-AFFECTIVE-CONATIVE STRUCTURE
OF POLITICAL ATTITUDES 161-180

5.1 Treatment and Analyses 161
5.1.1 Reliability and Validity of Semantic
Differential Measures 161
5.1.2 Basis for using Semantic Differential
Analysis to study Cognitive-Affective-Conative structure of Political Attitudes 162
5.1.3 Semantic Differential Analysis 163
5.1.4 Distance Cluster Analysis 173

VI REVIEW OF THE FINDINGS AND INTERPRETATIONS
OF RESULTS 181-200

6.1 Interpretation of Results 181
6.2 Educational Implications 197
6.3 Suggestions for further studies 199

SUMMARY
APPENDICES 201-220

A - Attitude Scale 221-233
A - Ordered Attitude Scale 234-242
1
B - Evaluation Semantic Differential Scale 243-250
1
B - Potency Semantic Differential Scale 251-258
2
B - Activity Semantic Differential Scale 259-266
3
C - Teachers Background Questionnaire

D - Specification of Nearest Neighbour Rule

E - Raw scores of 75 secondary school teachers

F - 55 x 55 Matrix

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor I - Political Goals

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor II - Political Functioning

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor III - Political Life Style

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor IV - Electoral Politics

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor V - Political Issues

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor VI - Faith in Purposive-Politics

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor VII - Emerging Political Trends

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor VIII - Political Tactics

G - Scores 228 secondary school teachers distributed on sixteen groups Factor IX - Political World View

H - An example of the method of calculations of the K-S test for Factor I (Political Goals)

I - An example of the method of calculations using Bartlett’s test of Homogeneity of Variances on the factor II (Political Functioning)

J - An example of computing 2x2x2x2 analysis of variance (Area x Sex x type x Subject) on the Factor I (Political Goals)
