ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Can I, and isn’t this thesis only a feeble effort to, acknowledge what I owe to the magician who broke all the bottlenecks to get this djinn out of me and make it dance on the paper and then also keep it within the bounds of a purple cover bearing the title of a thesis. The mantra he used for exorcising the angry ghost which had possessed me for the last ten years was only this: It is as simple as making a cup of tea, and as difficult if you don’t make it. The love who rebuked me into writing this thesis is Professor N.K.Oberoi. I am also grateful to my co-supervisor Dr. Deepak Manmohan Singh whose relevance to this project from registration to submission cannot be ignored. I owe a lot to my students and my colleagues who have always had me engaged in exciting and fruitful discussions, in the last four years in particular, when I got back to teaching after a long sabbatical of two years as a 'deconstructed' voice which had now greater space for others to interrupt, intersect and pluralize it; the work, though officially bearing only my signature, is countersigned by many other voices. I cannot forget the concern my friends, Anuj, Babu, Manoj and Joshi, showed to see me through with my tardy Ph.D. And I am grateful to my new friends Renu, Sumit, Sandeep and Glory without whose timely help this thesis would not have acquired its present shape. This thesis was typed by Sunil whose patience I tried to a point of exasperation where anyone else would have closed shop; the assistance from Satwinder at the last moment was really helpful. Also I remember my father, and especially my brother, Judge, who arrived from Canada, little did he know, only to typewrite the first pages of this thesis. I can not thank my wife Baljinder enough for giving me all kinds of support throughout this project. I am also thankful to all those, Dr. Harjodh Singh in particular, who contributed to this task in any capacity whatsoever. And lastly, I must mention Dr. Parmjit Gill who first saw to it that I got properly enrolled, and then that I acknowledge her role as she is herself typing this acknowledgement right now.
